Planning Study Endorsed At Stroudsburg Meeting

THE GROUNDWORK for setting up a planning program in Stroudsburg was laid last night when Ernest H. Wyckoff played host to 35 representatives of municipal, civic, educational, industrial and business groups at a dinner meeting in Wyckoff's Tearoom.

There was general agreement among everyone present that a long-range planning program is essential for the orderly growth of the community. It was also agreed that no time should be lost in getting a planning study under way since further delays would be reflected in lower property values, loss of industry and business and other economic setbacks in coming years.

Horace G. Heller, general manager of The Daily Record, said the newspaper was prepared to set up a meeting in Doylestown with the Bucks County Planning Commission, which is considered to be the outstanding group of its kind in the East.

Tentative Date

Virtually every person in attendance volunteered to make the trip and Feb. 29 was set as a tentative date. The local group will confer with members of the commission and its executive director, Franklin C. Wood, together with the Bucks County commissioners, utility, industrial and business leaders and others.

Heller recommended that planning be considered on a local basis first and then tied in with planning groups from other counties "to protect our own interest." What they do will either help us or hurt us, he said in urging Monroe County representation on a regional planning committee.

Community-wise, Heller said the obsolescence factor in Stroudsburg insofar as residential buildings go is a tragic matter. We must put our land to its fullest use if we are to progress, he said.

Planning costs money, but it pays for itself many times over by preventing costly mistakes in land use, Heller declared.

John R. Lesoine, chairman of the County Commissioners, credited Jacob Stroud with being a "smart man" because he laid out Stroudsburg with a wide Main St. at a time when such a step wasn't necessary. We are benefiting from his far-sightedness, Lesoine added.

The commissioner said, there will be a need for wider highways than we now have and recommended restrictions along all major roads in the county so rights-of-way could be taken without undue damages to the properties involved.

Allen Williams, representing Neighborhood Renewal Consultants, Inc., described the area radiating out of Delaware Water Gap for about 30 miles as one of the few outstanding regions in the entire East Coast left for development.

With the program of interstate highways now moving into high gear, Williams predicted this "most wanted area" will experience a substantial growth within the next 10 years. It will at least double in population, he ventured.

"A lot of decisions will have to be made in 1960," the consultant said, and they will demand a great amount of study, preparation and work. He warned that the pressure of new opportunities will make it difficult to get a proper perspective and urged careful planning.

Citizen Participation

Declaring that proper planning procedures call for the utilization of the community's various resources, Williams called first for the formation of a citizens' planning advisory council. Its members would include delegates from all organizations interested in housing, planning and development of the area.

He also suggested an educational program in the newspaper, assistance from the local college and other educational institutions and government agencies active in community development in a study of traffic, merchandising, parking, schools, municipal affairs, recreation, hunting, fishing and similar matters.

Steps which would create inducements to make the best use of available land were recommended by the consultant. He estimated that a planning program could be initiated in Stroudsburg over a period of two years at a cost of $20,000. Considering the benefits that would accrue, Williams declared the expense is so small that it would not be a hardship.

Fines, Prison Asked To End Payola, Fixes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stiff fines and prison terms were recommended by the Federal Communications Commission Thursday as a deterrent to payola and fixed quiz shows.

The commission poposed that Congress provide for fines of up to $5,000 and imprisonment for up to one year for deceptions in broadcasting.

It said in a statement that this would enable it to punish any guilty networks, advertisers, show producers and disc jockeys. All of these, it said, are now beyond its reach.

The commission contended its present authority extends only to individual radio and TV stations. It thus took issue in effect with a report to the White House by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers who said the commission has adequate authority under existing law to deal with deceptive practices on the air.

Most members of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee, which is investigating payola or the practice of making concealed payments for plugging records on the air, withheld comment on the commission's proposal.

The subcommittee has recessed its inquiry until next Monday because of Lincoln's Birthday.

Polls Misleading

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), told the Senate Thursday a study he made of public opinion polls convinced him that they "may be grossly misleading."

Creeks Rise After Heavy Rainstorm

MONROE COUNTY residents breathed a sigh of relief yesterday as creeks began to recede following a heavy rainstorm.

Sumner Bossler Jr., head of the flood warning division of Monroe County Civil Defense, said he had no reports of damage or inconvenience caused by flooding.

He said creeks were bankfull in most places and slightly over in some spots, yesterday morning.

Creeks rose 3.47 feet from midnight to 8 a.m. yesterday and began to fall about 11 a.m. At the latter time, the level was .14 below the highest figure.

Approximately three inches of rain fell in northern sections of the county. The Daily Record rain gauge recorded 2.35 inches.

The only damage reported as a result of the severe electrical storm which struck yesterday morning was near Cresco.

There a bolt of lightning set fire to the apartment and garage owned by Peace Justice and Mrs. Clifford Bush. Flames demolished the interior of the apartment, destroyed half of the roof and heavily damaged the garage on the first floor of the frame building. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller were occupants of the building.

Barrett Township Volunteer Fire Dept. fought the blaze for more than an hour after it was reported at 7:40 a.m. No one was hurt.

At midnight Wednesday, the level of the Brodheads Creek at a measuring station north of Analomink was 2.93 feet. By 10 a.m. yesterday, it reached 6.4 feet. Then receding began to take place.

Army Makes New Boast For Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army—in a pointed boost for its hard-pressed Nike-Zeus anti-missile project—claimed Thursday a faster - than - sound antiaircraft rocket intercepted and killed another supersonic missile on the first try.

In claiming the first such known kill, the Army showed newsmen a motion picture of the test Jan. 29 over White Sands, N.M.

The hunter-killer was a Hawk antiaircraft missile and its prey a short-range bombardment rocket called Honest John. The Hawk carried a conventional high explosive warhead.

When the two missiles collided, their combined impact speed was an estimated 2,000 miles an hour, the Army reported.

Although the demonstration was intended to show a high-speed missile intercept is possible, the problems of knocking down intercontinental ballistic missiles are infinitely more complex and difficult.

And knocking down ICBMs would be the mission of the Nike-Zeus.

President Eisenhower has withheld 137 million dollars in production money pending more tests of the Nike-Zeus in the Pacific this year. The Army would like to pry that money loose.

Good Morning!

A man who leaves home to set the world on fire often comes back for more matches.

Khrushchev's Remark 'Crazy,' Asserts Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's news conference spun through the fields of space and atoms Thursday to produce a gibe that a Khrushchev remark was crazy and to unveil a new proposal for banning most nuclear weapons tests.

The conference also brought forth a presidential slap at headline - hunting in the controversy over the status of national defense and the missile program.

Eisenhower reacted unhesitatingly though in subdued tones, to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's contention that the Soviet flag now is flying on the moon and this proves "the superiority of communism over capitalism."

Differs With Khrush

The President was told Khrushchev was quoted as saying that to President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy while the latter was visiting the Soviet Union. The questioner asked: "What do you think of such remarks?"

"I think it's crazy," Eisenhower shot back.

His voice was so low that stenographers differed as to whether the President said "it's" or "he's." Playback of a recorded tape showed it was the former.

No Hysteria

In any event, once the laughter subsided, Eisenhower went on to say that of course the Soviet Union can come up with spectacular achievements if it wants to put all its strength in a particular field.

"But my contention," he said, "is we should not be hysterical when dictatorships do these things. Now, all of these things are possible, but they are not things that we should, in what we believe is a broader and better type of civilization, let — well, let it dismay us."

Eisenhower had something fresh with which to start off the news conference.

He walked in briskly with a cheery "good morning," said he had a statement, pulled out his gold-rimmed spectacles, and read.

The statement said the United States was presenting in Geneva Thursday a proposal to end a deadlock with the Soviet Union forbidding all tests but low-power underground nuclear weapons shots. The ban thus would apply to all tests in the atmosphere, oceans, controllable areas of space, and to larger underground explosions capable of certain detection.

Experts In Field

The statement out of the way, the conference swung into the subject that has been getting more attention lately than any other at Eisenhower's sessions with reporters—the arguments in Congress and the Pentagon over defense and the missile program.

What Eisenhower had to say distilled down to something like this: It's fair to say the Pentagon people are experts in this field — which left the implication that congressmen aren't so expert. But the Pentagon people have different ideas about particular weapons or weapons systems and exploit and publicize them. Leaks and arguments ensue.

This Eisenhower deplores—particularly methods of publicizing varying viewpoints.

His many decisions on weapons come after he has heard all the arguments, pro and con, "and I have done the best I can, and I am doing it with one idea in mind only—America."

Feuding Paar Quits NBC Video Night Show In Huff

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Jack Paar, feuding with NBC because what he called "a clown" cut him off the air Wednesday night during an anecdote, quit the show in a huff Thursday night. It was an emotional farewell.

There were groans of protest from the audience and shouts of "oh, no," as the television comedy star—now turned deadly serious—announced his exit from the popular late night coast-to-coast show.

"Let Down"

"I believe I was let down by this network at a time when I could have used their help," Paar said.

He paused, striving to control his emotions.

He started to speak again, then gathered up several sheets of paper lying before him on a desk. He reached out to shake hands with Hugh Downs, the show's regular announcer, and then rushed off stage.

The audience broke into applause. Shouted protests against his departure also were heard.

The highly paid comedian's decision to leave the show had all the earmarks of a permanent break with NBC.

Might Cool Off

But there were immediate statements expressing the hope he would cool off and ultimately reconsider his abrupt decision.

Downs, who took over as master of ceremonies after Paar walked away from the cameras, said:

"He does things hastily at times that he does not hold onto...He did not do this for effect. I would like to think that's it's not final—that he will be back."

There was a break in the program at this point for a commercial. The show then continued without Paar.

Paar threatened to quit NBC once previously. This was in September, 1958.

Nine Killed In Crash Of Navy Plane

OAK HARBOR, Wash. (AP)—Nine Navy fliers died Thursday when their two-engine patrol seaplane crashed in Puget Sound, cartwheeling and shattering into bits as it hit the water.

Four bodies were recovered and a search continued for the others.

Names were withheld pending notification of kin.

The P5M Marlin was on an anti-submarine warfare training flight when it plunged into the Sound about 11 miles south of the Whidbey Islands Naval Air Station, its home base.

The cause remained a mystery. The seaplane had given no indication of trouble and first word of the crash came in a distress call from a sister ship.

Syracusé Has Leprosy Case

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The first recorded case of leprosy in Syracuse history was reported Thursday.

The victim is a 20-year-old Syracuse University student from India who had been in this city for a year and a half. His name was not disclosed.

Reds Reject Eisenhower Suggestion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States urged the Soviet Union Thursday to accept a new nuclear weapons test ban which would allow limited underground blasts but prohibit atomic-hydrogen explosions in the air and sea.

President Eisenhower, in announcing the four - stage proposal at his news conference, said it would be a quick way to allay worldwide concern over possible increases in deadly radioactivity.

In Geneva, the Soviet chief disarmament negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, rejected the proposal as a backward step.

'Backward Step'

"I have not seen this plan yet," he said. "But, of course, I am against a limited nuclear test ban. It would just be a step backward."

Top administration officials refused to view Tsarapkin's quick comment as a final rejection. But they clearly were not optimistic that the Kremlin would accept the plan.

The Eisenhower proposal would abandon, at least temporarily, the East-West search for an all-embracing agreement to stop all nuclear weapons tests. These talks have deadlocked at Geneva after 170 separate meetings stretching over a 15-month period.

Limit On Shock

During this time the United States, Soviet Union and Britain, the world's three atomic powers, have voluntarily halted tests while their experts sought a disarmament formula.

The new U. S. plan would allow underground shots to be resumed if explosions registered no higher than a figure of 4.75 on detection devices — a blast American scientists say is roughly the size of the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Soviet experts disagree and claim such a reading would measure a blast about eight times smaller than that.

Eisenhower said it was partly because of this disagreement between scientists of the two sides that he decided it was useless at this time to continue efforts to agree on a more sweeping, global plan.

Child Survives Journey Through Sewage Tunnel

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — "I hollered all the way. A couple of times my head went under. I tried to stop myself by hanging onto the sides but I couldn't stay there."

So related plucky 9-year-old Virgil Swartwood from a bed at Hamot Hospital Thursday in reliving his harrowing journey through an underground sewage tunnel.

Virgil fell into Mill Creek here Wednesday and ended up in Lake Erie's Presque Bay 2½ miles away. The sewage tunnel passes through the center of the city and carries the creek's waters into the bay.

John Groschulski, 50, a city employe, saw the semiconscious boy clinging to a branch near the shore and dove into the icy water, holding Virgil's head up until a small boat came to their rescue.

Finch Completes Testimony Vowing Love For Mistress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch Thursday ended eight days of dramatic testimony he hopes will save his life and made this vow: He still loves his pretty mistress and would marry her if he could.

The prosecutor asked the handsome society surgeon, on trial charged with murdering his wife, if he would now marry Carole Tregoff if he were free to do so.

"Yes," said Dr. Finch, "if Carole will have me."

Miss Tregoff, on trial with him, watched with tears in her eyes.

Another dramatic highlight came when the prosecutor asked Dr. Finch didn't make up "this whole touching death scene" about Mrs. Finch's last moments "in order to avoid the implication you left the dying woman on the lawn."

"No, sir," the doctor snapped, "that is not true at all. It is absolutely false, every single word of it."

The doctor's story was that he shot his wife accidentally in a struggle for a gun and after she fell dying she gasped: 'I'm sorry . . . Take care of the kids."

The wealthy 42-year-old physician and Miss Tregoff, 23, his one-time receptionist, are accused of coldly planning and carrying out the slaying of Dr. Finch's estranged wife, Barbara, 36.

The prosecution says he beat her and shot her at the Finch estate in suburban West Covina the night of last July 18 after a scheme to kill her and make it look accidental went awry. The alleged motive: to prevent Mrs. Finch from getting much of the doctor's wealth via divorce.

The doctor says his wife pulled a gun when he and Miss Tregoff called to discuss Mrs. Finch's divorce plans and it fired accidentally when he trjed to throw it away during a struggle. Mrs. Finch was shot in the back.

"Do you have an ethical regard for truthfulness and telling the truth?" asked Dep. Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whichello.

Replied Finch:

"Mr. Whichello — I'm up here fighting for my life and liberty—and also maybe for Carole's—and the only armament I have is to tell the truth, and I'll keep telling it over and over to you."

The prosecutor asked if he would "shade or alter the truth in any way" to help Miss Tregoff.

"I haven't done that," he said.

"Would you to save yourself?

"I wouldn't dare."

The crew-cut doctor told his story twice, once in direct testimony and again under cross-examination.

The first time, tears were in his eyes as he came to the part about his wife's shooting and her dying words. On cross-examination, he was calm, even matter of fact, in going over it again.

Court will be in recess Friday because of the Lincoln's Birthday holiday.

Little Vibration Felt From Blasting Done On Second Phase Of Stroudsburgs Thruway

QUIET blasting is the theme thus far of the J. H. Beers Construction Co., contractors for the second and third phases of the Stroudsburg Thruway.

Using a three - dimensional seismograph machine to measure the shock, Beers' crew set off its third blast in two days yesterday with little or no effects on the surrounding territory. All blasting has been done in the Storm St. section.

The seismograph, a machine which records the earth's tremors on three planes—horizontal, perpendicular and vertical —will be used on all blastings done by the road-building firm.

Edward Powers, of the Hazleton Vibration Co., is operating the machine during the explosive phase of the project.

He said the main purpose of the instrument is to determine the "safe charge" to be used in blasting so the explosion's after-effects will not damage homes or property near the construction.

Reports on Wednesday's blasts were said to be favorable. One resident was quoted as saying, "I thought it was something on television. I didn't even know it went off until I was told it was all over."

Used in yesterday's blast were over 400 pounds of explosives covering an area approximately 20 yards square. A spokesman for the construction company said he did not know how much rock was loosened by the blast and would not know until the removal operation was started.

He added, "It is almost impossible to judge how much was broken off due to the changing of density of the rock."

Stay Away

The spokesman asks the public to stay clear of the area during the time of the blast. He added, "We have a great responsibility in the safety of our own employes at the time of a blast. Someone may be in an area where we know there are no workers. These are the people who may be injured or killed."

Laundromat Opened In Stroudsburg

A NEW and revolutionary laundromat is now open at the rear of 553 Main Street, Stroudsburg. Wash-Easy Coin-O-Mat is the name of the new venture and is owned and operated by Alan and Ward Keiper.

The Wash-Easy Coin-O-Mat does a whole week's wash—washed and dried in less than an hour.

The modern plant is lined with 20 of the famous top-loading automatic Easy washers that are well known for their excellent dirt chasing agitator action, and hold up to nine pounds of clothes in one load.

Extra large dryers that hold up to four washer loads tumble the clothing gently, making them soft, fluffy and wrinkle-free.

24-Hour Service

Twenty-four hour service is one of the big features of the Wash-Easy Coin-O-Mat, making it convenient for everyone to do their wash day or night.

Wash-Easy Coin-O-Mat makes it possible for the person to shop, read or relax while their wash is being done, and it eliminates doing the wash and having to hang it out in bad weather.

Alan and Ward Keiper are well experienced in the Laundry and Dry Cleaning business. Both have been associated with Keiper's Inc., for many years. Keiper's is well known throughout the area for its laundering and dry cleaning services, having served the community for some 39 years.

Alan Keiper is president of the Pennsylvania Laundry Owners and a graduate of the National Institute of Dry Cleaners.

Ward Keiper is a graduate of both the National Institute of Laundries and the National Institute of Dry Cleaners.

WASH-EASY COIN-O-MAT is the name of the new laundromat at 553 Main St., Stroudsburg. It is owned and operated by Alan and Ward Keiper.

Accidents Take 91,500 Lives

CHICAGO (AP) — More than two-thirds of the 91,500 Americans who died in accidents last year were victims of autos or tragedies in homes.

Traffic killed 37,800 and home accidents 26,500, the National Safety Council reported yesterday.

The council's annual report said 9,300,000 persons—one in every 19 Americans—suffered a disabling iinjury in 1959.

The cost of accidents: $12,600,000,000.

Cold No Excuse

VIENNA (AP) — The Sofia newspaper Narodna Mladesch—in editions reaching here—tells young Bulgarian Reds that the present cold wave is no excuse for shirking their spare-time ditch-digging duties. The paper complained that pioneer projects had been neglected for weeks in villages and lesser towns.

Dear Abby

Tip-Exaggerate Your Affection

Dear Abby: How does a wife handle a husband who exaggerates and adds little white lies to his story every time he has an audience?

I have heard so many versions of the same "true" experiences that I am sick of it.

I have told my husband in private that his constant exaggerations and white lies are morally wrong. But he goes on trying to impress the world and I go right on nagging him. Is there a solution?

ANANYMOUS

Dear Ananymous: Your husband is suffering from malnutrition of the ego. Apparently he needs constant reassurance that he is charming, entertaining and in general a "big man."

Instead of "nagging," why not try to make up the deficiency. When a man feels self-confident at home he doesn't need to impress the world.

• • •

Dear Abby: I live in an apartment and the tenants do their own washing down in the basement in machines that belong to the building. I happen to own my own machine, but it is down there with all the others. (Everyone knows it is mine.) One lady has four children and has extra large laundries so she uses two machines instead of one.

She didn't tell me, but others have told me that she uses my machine. She thinks I don't know it. She changed the settings on my machine and I didn't notice it and I ruined my best girdle because the water was too hot. What would you do?

NEIGHBOR

Dear Neighbor: Tell your neighbor that your patience (along with your best girdle) has been stretched to the limit. She owes you a new girdle, an apology and a promise to leave your machine alone.

• • •

Dear Abby: Please don't laugh at my problem. It has caused me much heartache. I have always worn a little spit curl on my forehead. I had my hair styled by a beautician (once) and she put it there. Recently my daughter had her second baby. When I went to the hospital she greeted me with, "You've had your second grandchild, Mother, so don't you think it's time you grew up and quit wearing that silly spit curl on your forehead?" I still like it and so do other people, (they say), but now I feel self-conscious with it. Should I get rid of it or not?

SPIT CURL

Dear Spit Curl: If you like it—leave it. Since your daughter is now a mother for the second time it's time SHE grew up and used a little tact.

New Firm In Area

A new firm was granted the Dexter Press franchise.

The company, to be known as Pocono Scenicards, is owned by Albert Koster, East Stroudsburg, and Sidney Glauser, Philadelphia. The company's main office will be located in East Stroudsburg.

The franchise covers the counties of Monroe, Wayne, Pike and the northeastern section of Northampton in Pennsylvania and the northwestern section of Warren County in New Jersey.

The company will publish, distribute and do photography for various types of natural color products including advertisement post cards, folders and similar products. Their line will also include local view postcards and folders covering all areas of the Pocono Mountains.

Koster and Glauser, partners in the new firm, said they have acquired the rights to, and the stock of local view cards produced by Dexter Press which previously have been distributed in the Poconos and are prepared to begin full scale distribution before the start of the coming vacation season.

Levy Attends Photo Sessions

LAWRENCE Levy of Lawrence Studio, 526 Main Street, Stroudsburg, Pa., was in Rochester, N.Y., Feb. 8 and 9 to attend photographic demonstrations at Eastman Kodak Co.

Demonstration sessions, held in Kodak's professional technical service center, are designed especially for professional photographers.

Levy observed the latest techniques in connection with color portraiture. Kodak technicians, using the most advanced equipment, will demonstrate lighting and posing methods and other aspects of portraiture.

Indicted For Tax Evasion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Two Mahanoy City brothers were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday on charges of evading payment of income taxes totalling $137,802 for 1953-56.

The defendants are Peter Walsonavich, 42, accused of owing the government $98,921 for the four-year period, and John Walsonavich, 43, charged with evading payment of $38,881.

Peter Walsonavich operated the Service Electric Community Antenna System in the Milton, Danville and Lewisburg areas.

His brother John, married and the father of three children, operates the Service Electric Co., which maintains community television antenna service to Mahanoy City, Girardville, Gilberton and Frackville.

The indictment alleges that Peter Walsonavich earned a total of $200,801, but reported for the four-year period only $37,204 on which he paid a tax of $10,880.

John is accused of earning a total of $133,092 for the four years, but reported only $32,195 on which he paid a total tax of $6,297.

Groner Talks On Lincoln At MORA

EARL F. GRONER, superintendent of Stroud Union School District, spoke on Lincoln at a combined meeting of MORA and Leisure Hour Clubs Wednesday.

The meeting was held at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.'s Phillips St. plant and also marked the fourth anniversary of the utility's moving into the building.

Paul E. McBride, local manager for P. P. and L., was introduced by John R. Wilson, YMCA secretary, as a member of the original committee of Rotary which launched the MORA project at the YMCA.

Other speakers included Wilson, James S. Bunnell, president of MORA, and Rev. L. E. Markin.

It was reported Mrs. F. H. Heller, a former president of the Leisure Hour Club, is a patient in Monroe County General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Ewe, Chipperfield Dr., and Floyd F. Geiger, East Stroudsburg, RD 1, were introduced.

A film, "West to the Tetons, Great Teton Park," will be shown at the Feb. 17 meeting of MORA.

Held In Bail In Still Case

BEDMINSTER, Pa. (AP) — Three men arrested in a raid on allaged illegal liquor still have been ordered held in $2,500 bail each for U. S. District Court in Philadelphia yesterday.

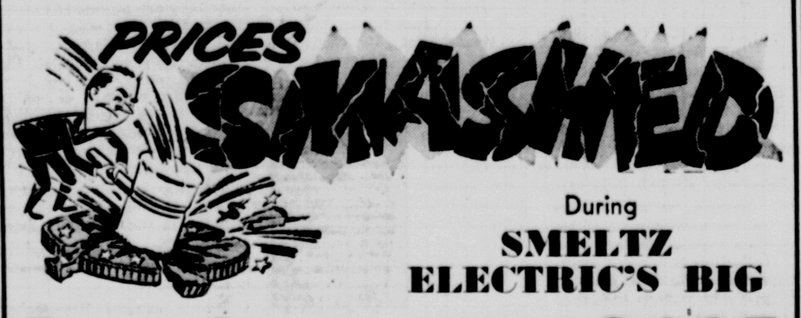

Arrested in the raid on the farm of Robert Kennedy were Kennedy, Leroy Rozell, 43, of Newark, N. J., and Louis Hiatt, 24, of Sewell, N. J.

Federal and state agents said the raid uncovered a still capable of producing about $20,000 worth of liquor daily. They said the raid followed surveillance of the Kennedy farm for two weeks.

Bucks County Detectives Frank Irwin and Thawley Hayman said 175 gallons of liquor and 2,500 pounds of sugar were confiscated. The men were given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Frank Hair of Allentown.

The detectives said the still was believed part of a bootleg liquor operation extending from Boston, Mass., to Richmond, Va. They said the raid was conducted simultaneously with one in Lehigh County.

Instrument For Good

Membership in the Boy Scouts has grown steadily in the Pocono District over the years. Figures released by the Delaware Valley Council show, for example, that only 337 boys were enrolled in the movement 10 years ago, compared with today's record high of 745.

What is not so evident, however, is the fact that the organization's influence as a means of keeping young boys on the side of decency has kept pace with scouting's growth.

Hundreds of men in the community will readily testify that the knowledge and experience they gained as Boy Scouts were instrumental in shaping their future destinies. Almost without exception, scouting's influence has been all for the good of the individual and the community.

As the Boy Scout movement celebrates its 50th anniversary, it is well to point out that here is an organization which has taught millions upon millions of boys to be self-reliant, resourceful and self-disciplined. It has provided a program which has stimulated ambition and rewarded the energetic.

Never at any point in the movement's diverse and fascinating activities has it said that its tests were easy, or that honors could be gained without diligence and hard work.

It is this characteristic of scouting which we applaud today. It has said to boys, "Work and be rewarded." This is a good philosophy for life in a generation when the tendency is to find an easy way for everything we do.

So, to an organization which helps make boys better men, let us add our congratulations for a job well done over the last half century and our wish for many more years of success in guiding boys to a better way of life.

Improve Antistrike Laws

Has the United States learned nothing from the costly four-month nationwide steel strike last fall? Or having learned, must it forget because 1960 is an election year?

Since the strike finally was settled, but only after billions of dollars of loss in wages, production and taxes, and since congressmen want to leave Washington this summer to engage in campaigning, the thought is being too widely accepted that nothing will be done this year to remedy the lack of legislative authority shown to exist for dealing with major strike situations.

Senators Javits and Aiken have introduced a bill which would make a good basis for needed legislation. It would authorize the President to name a fact-finding board whenever the "national health, safety or welfare" should be endangered. He thus could act earlier than under present law. He would also be authorized to ask the board to recommend terms of settlement.

This would enable the President to act earlier than under the Taft-Hartley Act and would not leave the board of inquiry tongue-tied. There are further provisions regarding plant seizure in the Javits-Aiken bill which may be more debatable. But the present session of Congress should certainly provide for boards of inquiry which can act promptly and can give the public the benefit of their findings.

The Pennsylvania Story

Assembly Wailing Wall

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — There is little doubt on Capitol Hill this week that the Democratic Lawrence Administration has been left high and dry at the legislative wailing wall as a result of the Legislature's decision to go into extended recess rather than final (sine die) adjournment as had been plumped vigorously and with determination by the Governor, his aides and Democratic legislative leaders in both the House and Senate.

The four-month recess to June 6 unquestionably must be chalked up as a victory for anti-administration Republicans who control only the State Senate — but who by virtue of this limited control, prevented House Democrats from carrying out their much lamented wish to adjourn finally and get the legislative branch out of town and out of Administration hair.

However neither chamber can adjourn without the other — leaving the Administration and their legislative leaders with virtually no choice than to go along with snug Republican insistence on an extended recess.

Meanwhile, key gubernatorial appointments requiring Senate confirmation are blocked — and remain pending at the pleasure of anti-administration Republicans; the Legislature being only in recess stands as a constant "watchdog threat" to executive branch activity — and notwithstanding hopeful Democratic expressions, the Legislature actually does not stand committed to adjourn finally when it does return from recess June 6!

Unquestionably it is to the wailing wall for the moment at least for a somewhat luckless Democratic Lawrence Administration.

Or in the words of an Administration legislative leader: "They've got us tied hand and foot — and almost by the neck!"

Important Weeks Department — An official gubernatorial — proclamation undeniably of tremendous importance to a goodly portion of Pennsylvania's population (weight and girth-wise) was duly signed and proclaimed this week by Gov. David Leo Lawrence designating the week of March 1-7 as "Weights and Measures Week."

In calling attention to the special week, one sentence of the gubernatorial proclamation reads: "Weights and measures enforcement is a matter of concern to every citizen in our Commonwealth as an important factor in the cost of living. . ."

Weight and girth-wise? . . . Not exactly . . . The proclamation of course is in observance of the establishment in 1911 of the State Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures, the official weight and measure checking unit for scales and weighing equipment used throughout the state. . . Undoubtedly a similar unit for weight and girth — "as an important factor in the cost of living" — might be worth while!

Political Weathervanes — Wags on Capitol Hill this week were speculating that the decision of popular and affable House Democratic Majority Leader Stephen McCann to withdraw as a candidate for the post of State Auditor General this year was not prompted so much by the "urgings of the Governor" to remain as Democratic floor leader — as the contention (by Republicans) that "GOP election winds are blowing this year" thus making a McCann win "questionable" as a statewide candidate but assured as a candidate for re-election to the House from his home Greene County.

McCann and fellow Democrats of course pooh-pooh any such suggestions as "ridiculous". . . Actual fact in the case: the Greene County lawmaker unquestionably has made an outstanding record in the House — climaxed last year and this by an exceptionally credible job as Administration floor leader in the lower chamber. . . It is no secret that Administration aides want him back in that post in 1961 . . . Period.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Mae West has written her autobiography, a poignant document entitled "Goodness Had Nothing To Do With It." Here's how Miss West selected that title: One evening a visitor got an eyeful of Miss West's impressive collection of jewels and exclaimed "Goodness, what magnificent diamonds!"

"Goodness," replied Miss West tartly, "had nothing to do with it, dearie."

CUTIES —By E. Simms Campbell

"Here—hold my baby for me! I want a fighting chance!"

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Where Are The Great?

It is not unusual these days for table chit-chat to wander to the illusive question of "Why do we not have great men, any more?" And that leads to an argument over what is meant by "great" — an argument that often leads to a vast difference of opinion but it can be brought to a head by the one word, Lincoln.

Of course, when Lincoln was a candidate for President, he bore the brunt of attack, of personal defamation, even of references to his father, Thomas, who was not much to tell about, and his mother, Nancy Hanks, who was less than she should have been.

He suffered calumny during the whole of his first year in the Presidency and was assassinated after his re-election.

But these are the crosses men bear and Abraham Lincoln bore his nobly and without malice or hatred. His was a period of bitterness, of distress, of vile antagonisms. Lincoln was neither a Southerner nor a Northerner.

His family was of border stock, but basically Southern. He matured in Illinois. His cultural background was plebeian; he came of the drifters of those days, the ne'er-do-wells.

His education was of his own making. No university can claim him. No collegiate degree appended his name. His language came from the Bible and Shakespeare which he read by candle-light in a drab house in New Salem, Illinois. His religion was the mercy of God.

In an emergency, this tall, homely, simple man possessed the courage, selfishness and intellectual fortitude to save his country. But there were other men in his day who might have saved the country, and they were on both sides. Horace Greeley, William H. Seward, Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee — these were not pigmies, but Lincoln towers above all of his generation.

Lincoln's conduct in office is probably no different than dozens of men who have held or might have held that high post. But his words bespeak nobility of soul. And we know that they are his words. The testimony as to who wrote "The Gettysburg Address" is beyond doubt. Lincoln wrote it.

He had no ghost-writer. The language was his; the ideas were his. He required no word-slinger, no copy-writer, no punctionation-marker to aid him.

Abraham Lincoln lived in an age when one who could write, prided himself on his ability. In his Proclamation of March 30, 1863, Abraham Lincoln wrote:

"Whereas it is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord;

"And, insomuch as we know that by His divine law nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments and chastisements in this world, may we not justly fear that the awful calamity of civil war which now desolates the land may be but a punishment inflicted upon as for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our national reformation as a whole pople?. . ."

In the year, 1960, this could have been said by someone in a high position, for the situation is identical. Again on July 15, 1863, Lincoln wrote:

". . . But these victories have been accorded not without sacrifices of life, limb, health, and liberty, incurred by brave, loyal, and patriotic citizens. Domestic affliction in every part of the country follows in the train of these fearful bereavements. . ."

It is in his Fourth Message on the State of the Union that Lincoln states his philosophy in a passing phrase:

"The most reliable indication of public purpose in this country is derived through our popular elections. Judging by the recent canvass and its result, the purpose of the people within the loyal States to maintain the integrity of the Union was never more firm nor more nearly unanimous than now.

"There have been much impugning of motives and much heated controversy as to the proper means and best mode of advancing the Union cause, but on the distinct issue of Union or no Union the politicians have shown their instinctive knowledge that there is no diversity among the people. . ."

Praise For Hospital

Dear Editor:

As a change of pace from the bitterness and resentment which have been displayed these past weeks, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all who were so kind to my husband during his nine weeks at Monroe County General Hospital.

Even though it was necessary to have private nursing care, each and every nurse, aide and employe displayed cheerful and helpful service—all of which contributes to progress for any patient.

God Bless them all!

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

An old friend of Les Smith, the night host at the Penn Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg, recently was honored for his writings about Abraham Lincoln.

The gentleman cited by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge was Elbert B. Rose.

It was the fifth time Rose was honored for his essays on the Great Emancipator and the only American citizen so honored for five consecutive years.

Rose will receive special recognition for his displays during the Lincoln Sesquicentennial at the Owens-Illinois National Hobby Shows.

The distinguished historian, a resident of Bridgeton, N. J., has written a daily column in the Garden State town's newspaper for the past 12 years. The title of the work is "Journey Through History."

Besides writing, Rose spends a good part of his time making displays of a collection of Lincoln mementoes. He has six displays in various historical spots in the country.

Not too long ago Rose sat in at a session of Congress in which Carl Sandburg, the No. One authority on Lincoln, spoke.

He also visited Springfield, Ill., this past summer to pick up added features for his collection of the man who guided our country through its toughest ordeal—the Civil War.

Rose has visited the area many times and has held long chats with Smith, a human history book himself on the affairs of Monroe County.

He plans to make a trip to Stroudsburg this summer and renew gabfests with pal Les.

Rose noted in his last letter to Smith that his recently married grand daughter spent her honeymoon in the Poconos.

With a man like Rose as a buddy we imagine Smith didn't have to lull away the long wintry nights without conversation. There was enough in the life of Lincoln alone to make the long hours worthwhile educationally.

Anyone who hapens to loaf around the lobby of the Stroud in the wee hours knows this as Les keeps the onlookers informed daily from his valuable resources acquired from such high-type personalities as Rose.

Ramifications Of French Atomic Test

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

WHEN FRANCE joins the atomic club, as she is expected to do almost momentarily, she will set off numerous political ripples.

From a strictly military standpoint, U. S. military men would have been just as happy two years ago, when France was considering whether to go ahead, if she had decided to forego bomb development.

They wanted her to provide a base but let the United States and Britain handle that part of the defense of Europe. It would have made planning easier not to have too many cooks around the stove.

And there is always the danger, the more atomic powers there are, that one could insolve her allies in something serious through use of such power in a unilateral cause.

Now, however, there has developed at least some feeling at the Pentagon, disturbed over France's refusal to play host to American atomic arms, that anything which tends to offset France's inferiority complex may make things easier in the long run.

Diplomatically, the principal effect of any enhancement of France's military potential is to give Gen. Charles de Gaulle a nearer approach to parity not only in negotiations with the Soviet Union, but with his allies, a point on which he has been extremely sensitive.

And this spring, when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev rattles his rockets in Paris, De Gaulle can say "Well, you may notice we're coming along, too."

A sucessful French test, even if the weapon produced is not a very modern one, will have its ramifications in several fields—the best—ban negotiations at Geneva; the question of atomic arms for Germany, and the resultant East German demand on the Soviet Union for the same thing; the new disarmament conference, and the summit talks on both subjects.

The Allen-Scott Report

Blitz Drive For Rocky

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Ardent partisans of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, doggedly refusing to count him out of the Republican presidential race are considering a blitz write-in drive for him in New Hampshire's March 8 primary.

Prominently active in this backstage movement is Max Rabb, former member of President Eisenhower's White House staff and now a New York attorney.

It is being stressed by these tenacious Rockefeller devotees that they are proceding entirely on their own and without the New York Governor's approval. They explain that the primary purpose of a New Hampshire write-in campaign would be to "keep the door open for eventualities, because anything can happen between now and July."

Whether anything comes of this undercover plan will be decided in the next few days.

Meanwhile, two other factors are influencing the inner deliberations:

Four avowed Rockefeller delegates are running in the New Hampshire primary. They filed without his authorization, but they are on the GOP ballot and a write-in drive could swing votes to them.

More than $200,000 in Rockefeller campaign funds are still in bank deposits in a number of cities. This money was raised locally in anticipation that the New Yorker would challenge Vice President Nixon for the Republican nomination.

After Rockefeller, in December, decided not to do that, his partisans determined to keep these funds intact "for the time being." Reputedly, $50,000 is being held in escrow in Washington, D.C.

This dormant $200,000 might be available for the proposed write-in blitz in New Hampshire.

Vice President Nixon is apparently aware of this activity. He has sounded out New York Republican Senators Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating on whether Rockefeller really is out of the presidential race.

"Do you think he is completely out, or is he waiting for a draft?" Nixon asked Javits.

"I am convinced he sincerely meant what he said about not seeking the nomination," replied Javits. "But I don't know what his thinking is on a possible draft. He hasn't discussed that with me."

Keating indicated he had heard "reports about a possible write-in drive," but assured Nixon he was taking no part in it.

Include Us Out — Two Republican senators are firmly ruling themselves out as vice presidential prospects — both for the same reason. Senator Thurston Morton, Ky., GOP National Chairman, and Senator Hugh Scott, Pa., have told Vice President Nixon they should not be considered as his possible running mates because that would put their seats in jeopardy. Pennsylvania and Kentucky have Democratic governors, and if Morton or Scott were to leave the Senate, they would be succeeded by a Democratic appointee.

A carefully-guarded Republican National Committee study, of the party's congressional prospects in the Midwest, frankly warns that five Senate seats are in danger — Senators Carl Curtis, Neb., Andrew Schoeppel, Kan., Gordon Allott, Colo., Karl Mundt, S.D. and the seat being relinquished by Senator Thomas Martin, Iowa. Curtis, Schoeppel and Allott are expected to be opposed by incumbent Democratic governors, Mundt by young and aggressive Rep. George McGovern, and Martin's place will be sought by Iowa's Democratic Gov. Herschel Loveless.

Other Hopefuls—Rep. Melvin Laird (R., Wis.) has the backing of potent House GOP leaders for chairman of the Platform Committee at the Chicago convention. Rep. John Byrnes, Wis., head of the House GOP Policy Committee and close friend of Republican Floor Leader Charles Halleck, Ind., is spearheading the drive for Laird. The latter is a veteran platform writer. He wrote the Wisconsin GOP platform in 1950 and 1952, and was chairman of the Agricultural Platform Subcommittee at the 1956 convention in Chicago.

Rep. Gordon Canfield (R., N.J.), who is retiring after 20 years in Congress, is taking a leaf out of his own book in recommending his successor. Before becoming a congressman, Canfield was for many years a secretary to his predecessor. Now that Canfield is quitting, he is proposing his long-time administrative assistant, Walter P. Kennedy.

Julian Zimmerman, Federal Housing Administrator, is telling members of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee that he is quitting soon to run for governor in Kansas. Democratic Gov. George Docking, serving his second term, is expected to run against Republican Senator Andrew Schoeppel . . . . Former Rep. Patrick Hilling, (R., Los Angeles), has registered as a lobbyist for a California cement company.

On Broadway —by Walter Winchell

The 20th Century Lincoln Mankind is now reaching for the stars and shattering sound barriers. The technological revolution — and the consequent scientific wonders — verge on the miraculous. Nevertheless, some things are constant. Wisdom and courage are as enduring as time itself. Abraham Lincoln's words and deeds are applicable to every contemporary issue. Although the thunder and music of his battles have been stilled, the splendor of the light they ignited and the scope of his courage remain an eternal flame. Just the sound of Lincoln's name quickens an American's pulse. It is like the sound of drumbeats. He struggled for truth and freedom and sought only to conquer bigotry and ignorance. His words go marching on.

He was blessed with the moral strength that is so desperately needed in the world today. Lincoln was one of those rare politicians who combined practical ability with moral ideals transcending political expediency . . . He could have compromised on the slavery issue and allowed the festering spiritual infection to afflict the nation. But he refused to appease indecency . . . No man had a deeper devotion to peace. Nevertheless, he took drastic action when he discovered the conflict could not be reconciled amicably. Lincoln said this nation could not exist half-slave and half-free—and that inexorable logic obviously applies to the world of 1960.

At a time when the storm and struggle of another Presidential campaign is striking its thunderous overture, it is well to remember Lincoln's political battle-cry: "I happen, temporarily, to occupy the White House. I am a living witness that any one of your children may look to come here as my father's child has. It is in order that each of you may have, through this free government which we have enjoyed, an open field and a fair chance for your industry, enterprise and intelligence; that you may all have equal privileges in the race for life, with all of its desirable human aspirations. It is for this that the struggle should be maintained, that we may not lose our birthrights. This nation is worth fighting for to secure such an inestimable jewel."

On the question of dealing with subversives, Lincoln made his position clear during the early days of the war. He did not believe freedom extended to treachery or that liberty included the right to destroy it. He boldly declared: "Under cover of liberty of speech and press the Copperheads hoped to keep on foot amongst us a most efficient corps of spies, informers, suppliers and aiders and abettors of their cause in a thousand ways . . . Must I shoot a simple-minded boy who deserts, while I must not touch a hair of the wily agitator who induces him to desert? I think that in such a case, to silence the agitator and save the boy is not only constitutional, but withal a great mercy."

Tyrants are always with us —be they mighty or midget. Khrushchev or Castro. Unfortunately, men of little faith and less courage always exist. They measure each challenge by the extent of their fears. They would surrender to the foes of peace in the name of peace. They are the appeasers . . . Lincoln knew amity could not be purchased by blackmail. When his opponents threatened that his election would lead to the destruction of the Union, he shot back: "You say you will destroy the Union and the great crime will be upon me? That reminds me of a thief who holds a pistol to your head and mutters: "Stand and deliver, or I shall kill you —and then you will be the murderer!"

Just glance at the front page headlines and you see that political differences are rocking the nation. Similar struggles were more savage during Lincoln era. Although he attained the Presidency with a decisive majority in the Electoral College — he had a minority of the popular vote. The nation was split wide open on every major issue. As a result, the most shameful vituperation was leveled at President Lincoln. But his faith in the people never wavered. There is not a single contemporary problem that could not be solved with the active universal application of the memorable words: "With malice toward none, with charity for all."

Every campaigning politician today could repeat the words of the 23-year-old candidate for the Illinois Legislature—and it would be as newsworthy — and far more eloquent—than most current editorials: "Every man is said to have his peculiar ambition. Whether it be true or not, I can say for one that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed of my fellowmen, by rendering myself worthy of their esteem. How far I shall succeed in gratifying this ambition is yet to be developed. I am young and unknown to many of you. I was born and have ever remained in the most humble walks of life. I have no wealthy or popular relations to recommend me. My case is thrown exclusively upon the independent voters of this county, and if elected they have conferred a favor upon me for which I shall be unremitting in my labors to compensate. But if the good people in their wisdom see fit to keep me in the background, I have been too familiar with disappointments to be much chagrined."

Monroe Ministerium Opposes Bid For County Harness Track

THE Monroe County Ministerial Assn. yesterday voiced opposition to the establishment of a harness racing track in Monroe County. The group cited moral and economic objections.

In a letter to The Daily Record, the group said it felt compelled to "express our complete opposition to the petition now in circulation calling for a referendum on establishing a harness racing track in our county."

The association charged that the amount of money received from taxing racing would be outweighed by "far greater sums" needed for increased law enforcement, expanded relief rolls and unemployment insurance.

Attend Session

Present at yesterday's ministerium session were Reverends Robert Zuch, Hamilton Lutheran; Charles Eichman, Moravian Church of Canadensis; John Bollier, Stroudsburg Presbyterian; Roger Stimson, Stroudsburg Methodist; Frank Wingerter, East Stroudsburg Presbyterian; Francis Seely, Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian; Clyde Levergood, Cherry Valley Methodist; and William Petcovic, Baptist Conference Camp, Bushkill.

Those pastors who were not present but endorsed the statement were: Charles Park, Christ Episcopal; Harold Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist, and Peter Wohlsen, pastor emeritus of Stroudsburg St. John's Lutheran.

The ministerium said that the letter would be sent out to all churches in the county with a request that it be read at Sunday services and discussed with each congregation.

The text of the letter:

"We of the Monroe County Ministerial Association feel compelled to express our complete opposition to the petition now in circulation calling for a referendum on establishing a harness racing track in our county. We oppose such legalized gambling first for moral reasons.

Injure Character

"Gambling, whether it is done legally at a pari-mutuel window or illegally through a bookie, cannot help but injure personal character and civic morality. The 'something for nothing' philosophy has already proven to produce scandal in the form of deceit and dishonesty in the big give-away TV shows. A race track in our county would similarly undermine the incentive of our young people and adults to work for a living. A country which has been built by the arduous labors of its citizens will begin to decay and fall from within when men turn to gambling for gain.

"Moreover, while those who are well off economically may be able to afford an occasional loss at the race track, the moderate and low income wage earner and his family will suffer most from such gambling losses. When the wage earner's pay check is so squandered, the solidarity of his family and the welfare of his children is seriously threatened.

"Should a race track ever be built in Monroe County, the professional gambler, who stands with the forces of organized crime, would become one of the new elements in our county's population. Such a class would hardly be uplifting for the moral character of our youth.

"J. Edgar Hoover, head of the United States Bureau of Investigation, has called the crime wave in America, costing the nation above fifteen billion dollars annually, a national disgrace. By far the largest portion of this stupenduous crime cost is spent in trying to enforce laws against gambling in its many forms.

Economic Reasons

"Secondly, we unreservedly oppose the establishment of a harness racing track in our county for economic reasons. Thus far this has been the chief reason set forth by those who favor the building of a race track in our community. But business and commercial interests must also recognize that many bills for shoes and clothes, groceries and appliances will go unpaid because of gambling losses.

"Moreover, the amount of money accruing from the taxation of horse racing would be outweighed by the far greater sums required for increased law enforcement costs, expanded relief rolls and unemployment insurance.

"We would echo the words of Sir William Gladstone, one of England's fearless statesmen of a former generation, who said, 'Vices are to be condemned and destroyed, not condoned and taxed for revenue.' While very few may stand to gain economically from a horse racing track in our county, many, many more would stand to lose economically and all would stand to lose morally. Therefore, we heartily urge the citizens of Monroe County not to sign the petitions calling for a referendum on horse racing in our community."

ANPA Official Will Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishing Assn., will retire July 31. He will be succeeded by Stanford Smith, assistant to the general manager.

Williams, general manager since 1939, has agreed to continue as a consultant to the new general manager and ANPA officers for two years. He will move in August, however, to his Lynchburg, Va., home.

Invitation For De Gaulle Told

HARRISBURG (AP) - President Charles de Gaulle of France Thursday was invited by Gov. Lawrence to dedicate the new Washington Museum at the Washington Crossing State Park in Bucks County.

Lawrence made the request in a letter to French Ambassador Herve Alfhand in Washington. He asked that de Gaulle include the dedication in his planned visit to the United States this spring.

E-Burg Seeks Federal Aid Sewer Work

APPLICATION for Federal funds to aid in the construction of the East Stroudsburg Sewer System has been made for the Municipal Authority by the engineering firm of Albright and Friel.

However, the decision on whether or not funds are supplied will not be available to the Authority until July 1, 1960.

A bill was recently passed by the House in Washington authorizing more Federal funds to aid programs to combat water pollution.

Under Consideration

The Senate now is considering the measure.

The total amount granted under the House measure would provide a total of $900,000,000 to communities across the nation in their water pollution campaigns.

This is up $400,000,000 from the present ceiling created under a former act.

Under the law, the Federal share of the cost of sewer construction would be limited to 30 percent of the total cost, with a maximum of $450,000 for any one project.

Present Ceiling

The present ceiling is $250,000 for such a project.

The House bill though, only provides the authorization for the expenditures, and does not actually provide the money. Additional legislation would have to be passed to provide the appropriations.

Oil Burner Fire In Gap

DELAWARE Water Gap firemen were called to the home of DeVice Keiper, Main St., at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Cause of the alarm was a reported defective oil burner.

Memorial Services Sunday For Ex-N'fld Resident

NEWFOUNDLAND — Memorial services for Mrs. Minnie Decker Renninger, 67, will be held Sunday at Moravian Church, with Rev. Dr. Frederick Fulmer officiating.

Mrs. Renninger, a former resident of Newfoundland, died Wednesday at the Smith Memorial Nursing Home, Media, where she had been a resident for several weeks.

She had been stricken at her winter home in Sebring, Fla.

Born in Philadelphia, she was the daughter of the late Dr. William and Laura Decker.

Graveside services at Newfoundland Moravian Cemetery will be held following cremation.

Reservations High For Meet

DR. F. W. SHAFER, president of Oak Spring Sportsmen Association said last night, "I have a good number of reservations for the dinner-meeting next Thursday."

The Oak Spring Sportsmen Association has sent out many invitations to area sport clubs to attend the meeting at Onawa Lodge on Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Glenn L. Bowers, executive deputy director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, will be the main speaker. Bowers was present at the January meeting and reported on observations he made of the local area and suggestions to help improve the deer herd.

For further information, contact Dr. Shafer at his office.

Courthouse Closed Today

ALL offices in Monroe County Courthouse will be closed today, Lincoln's Birthday.

Lighting Of Streets Is Outlined

THREE Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. officials outlined street lighting available from their firm at a meeting of East Stroudsburg Borough Council and members of the East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. last night.

The meeting was held at the request of the businessmen's group which is seeking improved lighting for the borough, particularly near the exits from the Stroudsburg Thruway and in the vicinity of East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School and Monroe County General Hospital.

Attending the session were Paul McBride, local manager for the utility; Earl Heller, his assistant, and Edward Halterman of Allentown, lighting engineer.

Their recommendations are expected to form the basis of any decision by council on street lighting improvements.

McCrary To Speak

ONE OF the nation's best-known television personalities, Tex McCrary, will be the speaker at a Lincoln's Day dinner sponsored by the Monroe County Republican Club at 7 p.m. today in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Gerald A. Snyder, GOP county chairman, will be in charge of the program. Tom Waring will be the master of ceremonies.

McCrary is married to the former Jinx Falkenburg. The couple has been on radio and television since 1956 and have received plaudits from both New York State and New York City.

McCrary is a former newspaperman and served overseas as a lieutenant colonel in the Air Corps during World War II.

Files Petition For GOP Post

HARRISBURG (AP) — August Metz, Milford, filed a petition Thursday for the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives from Pike County. He served in the House from 1950 to 1958 and was chairman of the House Game and Conservation Committee in 1957.

Lightning Strikes House, Causes $8,000 In Damages

CRESCO — Barrett Firemen were called out at 7:40 a.m. yesterday to extinguish a fire started by lightning.

The blaze started as Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller were preparing their youngster, Jimmy, for school and the bolt struck the apartment, located over a commercial garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller escaped from the home with only their night clothes.

Under Control

Firemen had the fire under control at about 9 a.m. and returned to the firehouse at about 10:30 a.m.

Total damage to the building, which was about two-thirds burned, was estimated at about $8,000 by firemen.

The building is owned by Clifford Bush, and is located about one-half mile from the station on Route 390.

Plan To Extend Scout Drive

BANGOR — Plans to start contacts with utilities, industries and business and professional persons were made by the special gifts committee for the Boy Scout drive during a meeting at the Commonwealth Telephone Company office here.

William Lange is the committee chairman while Allan Ryder is the borough chairman for the campaign.

Assisting Lange are James Rowlands, William Brown, Glenn Grigg, Jack Hamm, Arthur Baker, Frances Snyder, Theodore Schwanda, Robert Barlett, John Wallace and Walter Cole.

MacArthur Walks Unaided

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur walked unaided Thursday for the first time since he entered a hospital 13 days ago for treatment of a prostate gland disorder.

A medical bulletin said the 80-year-old general walked in the corridor outside his room in Lenox Hill Hospital. He is continuing to gain strength, the report said.

Bangor Troop Plans Trip

BANGOR —The menu for the camping trip at Camp Weygadt Feb. 19-22 was discussed by the Beaver Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 37 during the assembly at the home of Denny Strout Tuesday night. Members will meet at the church at 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 19, to leave for the camp.

It was decided to convene as a patrol on the same nights as the troop, with the patrol meeting to follow the troop meeting. This policy will become effective next Monday when the patrol meets at the residence of Wayne Buzzard.

Larry Ryder, patrol leader, was in charge. Buzzard led in the prayer; Charles Cole, pledge; William Jory, law; and Walter Cole, oath and treasurer's report. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Strout.

'Seat' Defined As Membership

By William A. Doyle

Q. Perhaps you can explain what is meant by a "seat" on the New York Stock Exchange. Why do seats on the exchange cost so much? What special privileges are granted to the owners of seats?

A. A seat on the New York Stock Exchange or any other securities exchange is simply a membership on that exchange. It entitles its owner to one basic privilege — the right to trade securities on the floor of the exchange without paying any commission.

Only members have that privilege. Everybody else who wishes to buy or sell securities through a securities exchange must place the buy or sell order through a firm that has a membership on the exchange — and pay a commission.

William A. Doyle

Those commissions add up. So, in these days of active securities trading, a membership on an exchange is valuable.

The only way to obtain a membership is by buying it from someone who wants to sell. Some transfers of memberships on the New York Stock Exchange have carried a price tag of over $150,000 lately. And prices of memberships on other exchanges have also climbed.

And "seat" isn't really a good word. Members of the exchange never sit down when they are on the trading floor. They're too busy. And they couldn't sit down, even if they wanted to. No chairs are provided for them.

Q. In what sequence are transactions on a stock exchange reported on the ticker tape? Do the operators of the ticker tape go through the list of all stocks every hour or so and report the latest price of each stock? Or do they report each transaction on the ticker tape immediately after it takes place?

A. On a busy stock exchange, the first method you suggest would be just about useless. The second method is used.

Immediately after a transaction is completed on the floor of an exchange, a record of that transaction (with the name of the stock involved, the number of shares and the price) is sent to the exchange's ticker department.

That department transmits the information by wire to all the ticker machines in its network. The trade then appears simultaneously on ticker tape on all those machines.

Q. Is it possible for a U.S. resident to buy or sell (through his home-town broker) stocks listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange?

A. Sure. Just place your order. Your broker will see that it is executed. If your local brokerage firm is a member of the Toronto Exchange (as some U.S. brokerage houses are) the transaction will be handled by that brokerage firm's "floor broker" on the Toronto Exchange. If the local firm isn't a member of the Toronto exchange, it will channel your order through a firm holding a membership on that exchange.

A good point to remember, though, is that when a non-member brokerage firm channels an order through a member firms will see to it that be an added commission cost to you.

This applies to all exchanges. But many non-member firms will se to it that their customers do not pay any added commission.

Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

Sunoco Gas Drops Cent

PHILADELPHIA — Sun Oil Co. yesterday announced a reduction of one cent a gallon in the Fair Trade minimum retail price of Blue Sunoco gasoline throughout the state of Pennsylvania.

Effective today, the new minimum retail price for Blue Sunoco 200 is 27.9 cents a gallon in Eastern Pennsylvania and 28.9 in Western Pennsylvania.

At the same time the company announced a reduction of one-half cent a gallon in the tankwagon (wholesale) price in the eastern part of the state and six-tenths of a cent a gallon in Western Pennsylvania. The new tankwagon prices are 14.6 and 15.3 cents a gallon, respectively, exclusive of state and Federal taxes totaling nine cents per gallon.

The move is the second one-cent a gallon cut in the Fair Trade minimum retail price of gasoline since last September 16. The company said the reduction was made to meet competitive conditions.

What Young People Think

Valentines, Leap Year Have Lost Their Charm For Modern Teeners

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

AS a commemoration of love, Valentine's Day is withering. As a romantic pitfall, Leap Year is through.

What other conclusion can you draw from the attitude of today's teen-agers?

We questioned 727 members of the younger generation about their attitude towards love's day of festival and year of entrapment. And their answers are enough to warp Cupid's bow and cause his arrow feathers to moult.

We have no special reason for looking forward to Valentine's Day, say 76 per cent of the teen-agers. Leap Year has lost its meaning, according to 72 per cent.

And they aren't playing coy.

Valentine's Day "is just another day," says 17-year-old Joan Gail Bidalle of Amelia, Ohio. "I don't see anything special in Valentine's Day," agrees William E. Bragunier, 17, of Tenafly, N.J.

Those who look forward to Feb. 14 have other reasons mostly: "There's usually a dance," says Donna Stetaniak, 14, of Massapequa, N.Y. "I was christened on it," says Dorrie McKane, 16, of Oceanside, N.Y.

Only here and there is there any vestige of the old tradition.

Most Girls Get Cards

Janet Hertz, a charming 14-year-old vestige from Flushing, N.Y., confides that she anticipates the day because "I can send a certain somebody a card."

As for Leap Year:

"I don't know its meaning so it must have lost it," says Joseph Hanna, 16, of Youngstown, Ohio.

"It should have," says 17-year-old Aaron Kramer of Chicago.

"Girls are more sensible now," says 16-year-old Kathleen Gram, of Olean, N.Y.

Ah, but a small voice from the minority—Dianna Heichen, 16, of Brooklyn—warns: "Girls are getting bolder every year."

Perhaps that's the trouble. The girls no longer wait for Leap Year.

But they wait, with anticipation, for valentines.

Getting specific, we asked: "Do you like to receive valentines?"

"Yes," say 90 per cent of the girls. But only 52 per cent of the boys will admit they like the attention.

"Do you like to send Valentines?" This is a different story.

Only 68 per cent of the girls and 42 per cent of the boys say yes.

"I don't believe in them," says 17-year-old Barry Sinrod of New York City. "They're mushy," says Carl Zeltz, 17, of Island Park, N.Y. "It's stupid," says Aaron Kramer. "I see no point to it," says Claude Cates, 17, of Cincinnati.

They Like 'Em Silly

But the tradition of exchanging valentines has its vocal defenders.

"I like people to know I'm thinking about them," says 16-year-old Al Tavolario of Struthers, Ohio.

Here are some other facts about teen-agers and valentines:

Forty per cent send valentines to a particular someone, while 30 per cent send to all their friends. Thirty per cent didn't answer.

Forty per cent send valentines to their parents, 56 per cent do not.

"It's a nice way to express my love for them," says Richard Hirsch, 18, of Chicago.

But Elliot Allen Elnhorn, 16, of Flushing, N.Y., says: "Gee whiz, they're only my parents."

Forty per cent of the youngsters say their parents exchange valentines, 52 per cent say they do not.

The teen-agers like silly valentines, it appears—59 per cent say they like to get them, while only 26 per cent say they do not.

They're about evenly divided on anonymous valentines — 43 per cent liking them and 47 per cent resenting them.

Sixty-three per cent like sentimental valentines while 24 per cent do not.

Turning to Leap Year, we asked the youngsters if they expect to take advantage of it. Only 10 per cent said yes—8 per cent of the boys and 13 per cent of the girls.

"I'm 14," says Pete Hawkins of Bethpage, N.Y., in explanation of his negative answer. Youth was the reason for most of the noes.

Richard Hirsch summed up his opinion of the advantages of Leap Year this way: "I have 24 more hours to do more things."

Poor Cupid.

Sabbath Service At Temple Israel

TEMPLE Israel will hold the Friday Evening Sabbath Service at 8 p.m. Rabbi Joshua Sodden will conduct the Service and speak on the topic "The Importance of Looking Ahead." This Sabbath also coincides with the 15th day of the Jewish month of Shevat, the traditional New Year of the Trees marking the beginning of Springtime in Israel.

The children's sermon is "The Lesson of the Trees."

This Sabbath has been designated as Birthday Sabbath for February. Children who will be honored are James Breslauer, Leslie Jacobs, Jolene Zager, and Sarah Jane Levin.

Temple Israel has also designated this Sabbath as Boy Scout Sabbath in tribute to the 50th Anniversary of the Scout movement in America.

A reception will be held in the vestry room following the Service. Hostesses will be Mrs. Seymour Katz, Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, Mrs. Edwin Krawitz and Mrs. George Levin.

Elvis Elevated

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Elvis Presley got his sergeant's pay Thursday. The rock 'n' roll singer, now serving as a reconnaissance scout leader with an armored division in Bavaria, was made acting sergeant just before his unit went on maneuvers last month. That gave him the stripes, but not the pay. His promotion boosts his pay $22.94 a month to $180.24.

Kiwanis Aide Elaborates On '60 Slogan At Bangor

BANGOR—Orion Reeves, of Easton, lieutenant governor of Division 17, Kiwanis International, elaborated on the service organization's 1960 solgan, "Freedom Is Up To You," for the benefit of local Kiwanians dining at the Colonial Hotel this week.

Among the points emphasized were: exemplify higher moral and spiritual values; develop individual citizenship responsibility; stimulate individual citizenship responsibility; stimulate youth to strive for excellence; generate individual concern for safety—improve traffic laws and enforcement.

Also, demand sound fiscal policies in all phases of our economy; promote free enterprise and foster labor - management cooperation; and increase our knowledge of world affairs.

Joseph C. Reagle thanked the speaker. Clair H. Peifly, president, was in charge. Dr. Anson Hamm offered the invocation. A card from Harry Flory, a member vacationing in Hawaii, was read.

AT POULTRY MEETING—Jacob Learn, of Bartonsville, left, James Canfield, also of Bartonsville, and F. H. Monroe Ag Unit Hears Leuschner

MONROE COUNTY Agricultural Extension Association conducted a meeting for the poultry producers Wednesday. The session, held at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building, had F. H. Leuschner, Extension Poultry Specialist of Penn State University as the speaker.

Leuschner also discussed the following statistics: Since 1950, Pennsylvania population has increased 6.4% while egg production has increased 5.9%. He said Monroe is presently producing 322 eggs per person. This compares with a national average of 350 eggs per person.

Larger Number

A larger number of eggs are now being shipped into Pennsylvania. Southern states have apparently increased egg production rapidly in the past few years, he noted.

Leuschner presented figures which would indicate that an egg holding room could be an aid for increasing egg quality. At the present time 58% of a poultryman's time is spent for egg handling.

Refuse To Salute Flag

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Several fourth and fifth grade children at Washington School refuse to salute the American flag because of religious beliefs.

The controversy began two days ago when a fourth grade teacher noticed all the students were not saluting the flag. Two in the fourth grade and two in the fifth refused to take part in the Pledge of Allegiance and urged their fellow pupils to follow suit.

The pupils were Anna Cordero, 10, Robert Travino,9, Ralph Terrez, 11, and Anibal Gonzalez, 11. School authorities are looking for an official statement from the State Public Instruction Department.

Mr. Irving Gutfreund, the fourth grade teacher, says a man who said he was Ralph Torrez, father of one of the youngsters and leader of the Spanish speaking Jehoah's Witnesses congregation in Bethlehem, appeared at the school.

Mr. Gutfreund said Torrez appeared in support of the children and insisted they were within their rights in refusing to salute the flag. The teacher refused to listen to Torrez when he attempted to read the bible to the children.

John D. Killiam, deputy attorney general assigned to the Department of Public Instruction, said if he was asked to advise on the matter it would require research on his part.

Seek Gang In Shooting

CHICAGO (AP)—Police organized a special South Side task force yesterday to hunt down a gang of teen-age Negroes who shot a white campaigner for brotherhood.

The shooting of the Rev. Leo K. Bishop, 48, vice president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, occurred as he and his wife were going home from a meeting of a neighborhood betterment society Monday night.

The young toughs shot the minister in the groin. Another bullet from a .32 caliber pistol grazed his back in the robbery attempt. He is recovering in Illinois Central Hospital.

An ordained clergyman of the Disciples of Christ, the Rev. Mr. Bishop and his wife, Pauline, 47, were accosted at 69th St., and Crandon Ave., by five boys and two girls using a rifle and a pistol in a robbery attempt.

Police Capt. Jerome McCarthy said four other South Side holdups Monday night seem to have involved the same gang. A rifle was used in each.

Acting Police Commissioner Kyran Phelan said he will saturate the South Side with task force policemen in an effort to solve the robberies, attempted stickups and attacks in the area.

The Rev. Mr. Bishop held pastorates in the Disciples of Christ churches in Kentucky, Oklahoma and Iowa before joining the NCCJ in Iowa. He has been a militant foe of racial and religious prejudices for years.

Charged With Woman's Murder

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Police announced yesterday a man has been charged with the beheading of a 29-year-old stenographer in a YWCA hostel seven weeks ago.

The accused man was not named. He was arrested after an intensive manhunt that ranged from end to end of Britain. He appears before a Birmingham court Thursday.

The murdered girl, dark-haired Stephanie Baird, was found decapitated, apparently by an ordinary carving knife, in her room at the hostel last Dec. 23.

Family Of Nine Sons For Doctor

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight sons of Dr. Walter Hackett—seven with baseball bats — were on hand at Resurrection Hospital yesterday to take home the ninth pint-sized member of a potential team.

The new squad member—born Feb. 4 to Hackett's wife, Mercedes, 34—is Paul Andrew.

Paul's welcoming committee were brothers, Peter, 12; Dan, 11; Jim, 10; Toby, 8; Christopher, 6; Joey, 5; Mark, 3, and Michael, 1½.

How to turn a $5.00 raise into a $1,000 bonus

Wishing won't turn a $5 a week raise into a $1,000 bonus, but it's easy to do.

If you take that $5 raise and put it into U.S. Savings Bonds, you can buy an $18.75 Bond a month and have money left over. If you keep buying one of these Bonds a month for 40 months, you'll have your big bonus—Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity.

You can buy this $1,000 automatically, too. All you need to do is tell your employer to start making deductions from your pay for Bonds. This way, your raise can't slip through your fingers.

It's a pretty smart idea to save a raise. It's money you didn't have before and shouldn't miss. But the time to start is right away. Whether you've just gotten a raise, or not, using the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds is a fine way to save. Why don't you ask your employer to include you in the Payroll Savings Plan?

MORE ADVANTAGES TO THINK ABOUT

You now get 3¾% interest, at maturity. This new rate, which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959 earn more, too—an extra ½% from now to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash anytime at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed safe by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bonds will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Bond money goes for science, education, military strength—the weapons of peace. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U.S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
each week save	$5.45	$10.85	$21.70

Just Between Us — —

—by Bobby Westbrook

What did I tell you—crocuses, violets and you and I perking up under record February temperatures just far enough to get frost-bitten, what do you bet?

It's worth it, though, just for the privilege of walking with your head up and your shoulders down, even though you're ankle-deep in mud.

Ankle - deep in arguments, that's what I am, too, I thought things were a little calm around here, but that was before the race track proposition came up. That ought to give people something to talk about besides their neighbors for the next few weeks.

Also high on the discussion list was the proposed Girl Scout merger with Scranton to form a new council which would take in some 5,926 Girl Scouts already organized in 283 troops.

Naturally enough there was some disagreement. Women who have worked long and hard to buy the Girl Scout House and to improve the camping facilities at Camp Lloyd Treible were understandably reluctant about turning them over to the tender mercies of a new council whose makeup they don't know.

But according to the vote of those working actively with the Girl Scouts in the county the advantages outweighed the dangers. Particularly appealing was the idea of having professional help since the county is not large enough to support even a staff of one professional.

Well, times change, and no doubt great things are in store for the Girl Scouts of the future. Though I still maintain that the real value of any Girl Scout program comes from the quality of the local leader of the individual troop.

Banding together, 5,926 Girl Scouts can make for a lot of facilities and big camps, but I betcha they don't have any more fun than the—was it 15 of us? — who had hot dog roasts back of St. John's Lutheran Church or went picnicking at the Covered Bridge with Laura Fabel, and no Girl Scout Camp in the world could be more inconvenient — or more memorable—than Camp Deerbone.

Miss Vivian Eggert Is Bride Of Arlett Gannon

Miss Vivian Eggert, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Eggert and the late William Eggert of Stroudsburg, RD 1, became the bride of Arlett Gannon, son of Delmont Gannon and the late Edith Gannon of Stroudsburg RD 1.

They were married in a double ring ceremony at the First Assembly of God Church ofh-Stroudsburg. Rev. David M. Blattner of the Paradise Valley Assembl yof God Church officiated. Miss Dorothy Neipert was pianist.

The church was decorated with white flowers at the altar. Mrs. Beverly Johnson was soloist. She sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her brother, Russell Eggert, the bride wore a street - length gown of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearl. Her fingertip veil fell from a seed pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Her sister, Mrs. Harriet Constanzo, of Cresco, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of blue Alencon lace and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Boyd Gannon, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Charles Constanzo of Cresco and Joseph Johnson of Stroudsburg.

A reception for about 75 guests was held in the basement of the church. The bride's mother wore a gray tweed dress suit and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is employed at Koehler's Diner and the bridegroom at Pocono Shoe Mfg. Co., Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Gannon will make their home at Stroudsburg, RD 1.

Program Set For Co. Meeting Of Presbyterians

Monroe Girl Scout Council Joins Forces With Scranton To Form Northeast Council

The Monroe County Council of Girl Scouts last night voted 31 to 8 in favor of participating in a development committee which will work out details of the proposed merger of the Monroe County and Scranton Council of Girl Scouts with the lone troops in Susquehanna, Wayne, Wyoming and Pike Counties.

Monroe County will be represented by five members on the development committee to be chosen by the executive board from names submitted by the Neighborhood Councils. These names may include anyone in the community with an interest in the Girl Scouts.

The decision came after a lengthy discussion and a detailed explanation from Mrs. John R. Williamson, National Girl Scout Volunteer, of Weatherly, and Miss Acacia Crowell, of the National Field Staff of the Girl Scouts at the meeting held at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church last night.

In the proposed merger, each Council and all lone troops would lose their identity, and their administration, property and finances would also be merged under the larger council, they explained.

The Neighborhood Councils would maintain their jurisdiction within their own areas, they said, with the advantage of professional help available. Charts of organizational set-up and of the population and number of Girl Scouts within each area were displayed, and successful mergers in other areas were cited.

Small discussion groups were held with the questions arising in each group presented for general discussion.

Some of the primary questions concerned the distances involved, the finances, the disposition of property such as the Girl Scout House or Camp Lloyd Treible, and the make up of new council committees.

While such details would be worked out by the development committee, Miss Crowell said, she attempted to suggest possible solutions:

The professional worker might come to committee meetings in each section and the board might use a revolving plan of meetings within the areas involved.

What About Property?

The finances and disposition of property would be to the best interest of all the Girl Scouts in the area. For instance the Monroe County Girl Scout House might be maintained as a library, it might be sold and the proceeds added to the general fund or a capital fund of the new council.

It will probably cost Monroe County more since they will have more to offer by way of professional staff.

Committees will be appointed by the Council which will probably choose representatives from the various areas.

The chart showed that Scranton would be represented by 20 members of the area; Monroe County 5; Susquehanna 2; Wayne 2; Wyoming 1. Pike County has no Girl Scout troops at present.

Neighborhood committees will send in their lists of names at their meetings in early March and the board will select the representatives on the development committee at the March meeting.

The Scranton Council has already voted in favor of the proposition.

Officers Installed By Victoria Council

Victoria Council No. 165, Daughters of America, held installation of officers with Deputy Jennie Meixell as the installing officer.

The following will serve for the coming term: councilor, Margaret Summers; vice councilor, Hazel Detrick, junior past councilor, Bertha Jennings; warden, Carrie Jennings; conductor, Hattie Lasher; associate junior past councilor, Clara Heller; trustee, Hattie Lasher.

Appointed officers were pianist, Ida Strunk; flag bearers, Agnes Smith and Arlene Young.

Refreshments and a social time followed. The tables were decorated in the Valentine motif. Hostesses were Arlene Young, Bertha Jennings, Hazel Detrick and Carrie Jennings.

Wooddale WSCS

Wooddale—The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Wooddale Union Church will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Chester Van Vliet.

HOW TO TELL QUALITY DRYCLEANING
- Check trouser cuffs for lint.
- Collar, shoulders, and neckline should feel pressed and fit smoothly . . . as when new.
- Look for a molded, firmly pressed chest in men's suitcoats.
- Lapels and sleeves rolled unless creases are specified.
- Entire garment free from pocket, seam and button impressions.
- Creases should be straight and sharp. No wrinkles.
- Straight hemlines and pleats on women's clothes.
- Bows, ornaments, and buttons, if removed in cleaning, should be replaced.

Gap WSCS Joins Council Of Church Women

Delaware Water Gap—Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Delaware Water Gap Methodist Church voted to join the Monroe Council of Church Women at their meeting on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Rapp.

The group also decided to have a family night covered dish supper at the church on February 20 with Mrs. Nelson Lightner in charge of arrangements. Members turned in orders for cutlery they had sold.

Two penny supper dates were set: one for April 21 and the other on May 19.

Mrs. Robert Richards led the opening devotions. It was announced that Mrs. Marion Harris of Wind Gap, a district worker, will be the special speaker at the March meeting.

Mrs. Rapp and Mrs. George Brockman served refreshments after the meeting to Mrs. Willard Kitchen, Mrs. John R. Staples, Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. Nelson Lightner Sr., Mrs. George Hay, Mrs. Robert Kaiser, Mrs. Willard Jennings.

Birthdays Honored At County Home

A birthday party was held on Thursday afternoon at the County Home for those guests who celebrate a birthday in February.

Those honored at the party were: Mrs. Grace Heiney, Charles Green, Richard Hildebrandt, Clarence Jones, and Albert Miller.

Gray Ladies served refreshments, and the party was sponsored by five groups within the Stroudsburg Methodist Church: the Christian Pals Class, the Christian Fellowship Class, the Westwood Class, the Faithful Class, and the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Valentine Dance Tonight

Barrett — The Jr. Tri-Hi-Y girls of the Barrett Branch YMCA will hold a St. Valentine's Dance on Friday evening, February 12, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock at the Barrett Y. All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 14 are invited to attend.

During the evening a King and Queen of Hearts will be chosen. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be served.

Pocono Council GOP Women Board Meeting

Mount Pocono—All officers of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women are asked to attend a special meeting of the executive committee called for Wednesday night, at 8:30 at the home of the president, Mrs. Richard Leies, Swiftwater.

The meeting is of special importance because the regular meeting was canceled in January and there is no other scheduled meeting until March.

"AIN'T GOT TIME"

Ain't got time to go-a-fishing
Ain't got time to relax
Ain't got time to sit a-wishing
Got to pay my income tax.

Ain't got time for my family
Hardly know the children's names

Ain't got time to sit and listen
To their tales of childish games.
Ain't got time to romp and play
Ain't got time to go to church
Got to work 14 hours every day
Can't leave my business in the lurch.

Ain't got time for mirth or laughter
Ain't got time to take a drink.
Ain't got time for the hereafter
Ain't got time to sit and think.

Ain't got time to hit a golf ball
Ain't got time to sink a putt.
Got to give my very all
To keep the wolf from my hut.

Ain't got time for a vacation
That's all foolishness anyway.
I can get my recreation
Doing things that bring in pay.

Ain't no one can take my place
Ain't got time for story or fable.
Think I'll have to step up my pace

Got to make it while I'm able.
Ain't got—GOOD MORNING GABRIEL

The Wyckoff Shopper
"the friendly store"
A.B. Wyckoff
STROUDSBURG, PA.

I am sure Errol Flynn does not "tell all" in his autobiography "My Wicked, Wicked Ways" which arrived in our store along with a shipment of new books the other afternoon. No one EVER tells all in a public confessional. But he does tell enough to curl the hair of the timid, raise the eyebrows of the puritanical to previously unscaled heights, and leave the reader in one of two moods. Either you close the book feeling, "What a dreadful ruin this man made of his life, his fine physique, and his talents." . . . or "What an exciting way to spend a lifetime—living every minute as your whims dictate."

I mention the book NOT because I recommend it, for I feel that much of it is trash and a waste of paper . . . but because it will undoubtedly be read by a public, eager for sentational tripe that in a measure compensates for the routine, rather dull lives, most of them lead. Through the several hundred pages, Flynn takes his readers to far away places the average person can never hope to see, and to salons of lurid diversion the wholesome person would never CARE to see. Some of his language is disgusting and many of his experiences repulsive. These passages outnumber those that are thoughtful, philosophic, or mildly beautiful. Nevertheless they will give a lift to those who merely live behind a facade of puritanism, and secretly envy him because he did not.

In his discussion of movie personalities and motion picture celebrities, Flynn is interesting in a gossipy revealing way. He does not tell you anything about the movie colony that hasn't already been guessed by the general public on the basis of frequently explosive headlines, but he does name names. He excuses his own peccadilloes with the contention that what he did, he did openly . . . not by sneaking through back streets and up dark alleys. These camouflages he left, he says, to respectable hypocrites.

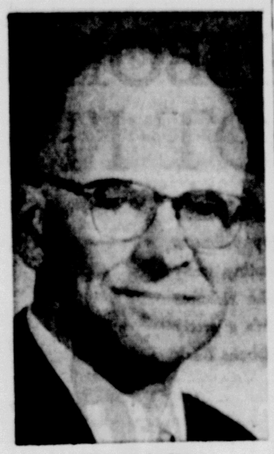

In some brief instances, when he reports upon the civil war in Spain, which he covered for the Hearst papers, he reveals occasional flashes of regard for humanity which are rather surprising and touching, all things considered.

As I said before, I mention Flynn's book, because it will be discussed. It will probably be on the best seller list for months to come. Only one "good book" can claim this honor consistently through the years . . . and that is the Bible. Aside from the Bible, the books that are snatched up by the publisher, with an eye to an easy buck, and the public with its mind on nefarious excitement are such as these . . . written by sinners who, often enough, are proud of their sins.

At least Errol Flynn lived, while he lived. He didn't rock by a window, moaning his fate, and do nothing about it. He didn't long for the sea and wide open places . . . he went, even when there wasn't a dollar in his pocket. He didn't think a job looked exciting . . . he tried it, even to raising tobacco in a jungle that hadn't produced tobacco crops before. It is just too bad that so much of his time he sought adventure in a way that was distasteful to society. I would not care to have my children read this bok, or even my favorite aunt. I didn't finish it . . . I read all but the last few pages, and can't say I am any richer for having done so. Nevertheless, I am not the guardian of your reading habits nor your thinking. I wouldn't even presume to be! You take it from here—.

Dance Money Coming In

VICTOR KOCH, chairman of the Stroudsburg Fire Department's Annual Dance, reported last night that money from ticket sales is coming in on tickets distributed Monday.

He added that Bernie Parson's 13-piece orchestra will provide music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

A large floor show has been contracted and will begin at 10 p.m.

Cross Country Jet Mark Set

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Convair 880 streaked into Miami Wednesday on a transcontinental hop from San Diego, and Delta Airlines claimed a new record of 3 hours, 31 minutes, 54 seconds for the flight.

The flight time—clocked by observers of the National Aeronautic Assn.—eclipsed a mark of 3:58:55 set last Jan. 4 by a Douglas DC8 on a flight from Los Angeles to Miami.

The new mark becomes official when filed in Washington.

T. P. Ball of Atlanta, Delta's chief pilot, said the Convair shot up to 33,000-foot altitude after takeoff and stayed there during the trip which covered 2,338 air miles.

Top ground speed was 750 miles per hour, over Houston, Tex., and the plane with 34 persons aboard averaged 65 miles per hour.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Friday, February 12, 1960

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Exchange ideas with others in your field. Substitute new, advanced methods, equipment where it will simplify work, make progress easier. Control emotions!

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Keep up any good work already started and know that calmness, patience and steady application are great aids in any situation.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Your planetary aspects now stress a need for penetrating thought and action in written matters, documents, contracts, etc. Steady application will pay off.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You may have to edge your way forward during this somewhat restrictive period. Do it carefully, even gingerly, so as not to rub anyone the wrong way or make needless errors. You can gain benefits.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Rays are neither unfriendly nor overly auspicious, but you can succeed with your innate knack for knowing what to do and HOW to do it at the right time. Vigorous action favored where needed.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Much will depend upon your own attitude now. You may not achieve showy results but, on the whole, industriousness and good will should prove potent.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You may find the day "tricky," some things difficult to handle, but don't lose patience or become discouraged. It's surprising how much brighter things look when you refuse to become annoyed, but grin and carry on.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — You may have to push your self to handle unpleasant or tedious tasks now. The day is not entirely auspicious, but activities requiring vigor and endurance are favored. Keep going.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — A good period for advancing work, personal affairs. Concentrate on the important and do not waste time or thought on non-essentials.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Don't be biased or develop a one-track mind. You may have to seek help in some directions. Be willing, too, to spread some of your light and fine talents where they are needed.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Business and workaday tasks may present some problems. Handle with firmness, composure and your usual efficiency. Then your chances will be better, results more satisfactory.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A compelling personality and winning smile can be handy weapons to wield against tricky competition, difficult customers. You may be up against some stubbornness now. Be fair, reasonable, and you'll benefit.

YOU BORN TODAY are a combination of sturdy attributes and occasional changeableness. You are interesting, but also puzzling. You can be swayed by strong personalities so be ever on guard to choose high-principled, good-living associates, friends. Energetic and rightly ambitious companions can help keep your fine nature tuned up. Make the most of your many talents and capabilities. Further your education, your innate fondness for the finer arts. Birthdate: Abraham Lincoln, 16th U. S. Pres.

Misses German's Record

Hopewell Gets 43 Points As Warriors Win 95-64

RUSS Hopewell came within two points of tieing the East Stroudsburg State College single game scoring mark last night, as the Warriors rapped Trenton, 95-64.

Hopewell hit 43 points two less than the record set by Charlie German in 1955. German was a freshman when he made the mark.

The six-foot, one-inch Hopewell hit 21 points in the first half and added 22 in the last 20 minutes. He scored 17 field goals on 28 tries for a 60 percent shooting night and added nine of 12 tries from the foul line.

Fans Plead

With three minutes left in the game, the noisy Warrior fans, sensing that the Waynesboro sophomore was nearing a record, screamed for the other Eastburg players to "give the ball to Russ."

And the Warriors obliged. Hopewell had 39 points at the time. He tried and missed five jump shots before he was fouled driving for a lay-up with only a minute left in the game. Hopewell converted both tries. With only three seconds left, he added his final two points on a jump from the key to end the scoring and the game.

Hopewell was also strong off the boards, grabbing 17 rebound and blocking four shots.

Two Get 24

Ken Hendricks and Al Stockholm added 12 points each to the Warrior total. Dick Ritchie and Al Vitola split 28 points down the middle for the losers.

Trenton never had a chance to get started, as East Stroudsburg jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first minute.

The visitors managed to get with five points early in the game at 11-6, but after that it was strictly no contest.

Hopewell accounted for 11 of the Warrior's first 20 points while Trenton managed only nine in the span.

Hot Streak

The hot-shooting locals, who lit 39 of 75 shots from the floor for 52 percent, held Trenton to 14 points from the 11 minute mark until intermission. In the same stretch, Dick Luce's club tossed in 31 points, including four bursts of seven points.

At the break Hopewell had managed eight of 12 field goal tries.

In the second half it was just a question of by how much East Stroudsburg would gain its fourth win of the year.

In the first ten minutes of the half Hopewell upped point output to 34, mainly on soft jump shots that seemed to hang in the air as if suspended from the ceiling.

Final Spurt

He scored six points in a span of only 27 seconds as the Warriors opened a gap of 36 points, 68-32, their biggest lead of the night.

The visitors closed with a spurt, tallying 21 points in the last 10 minutes.

Former Owner, Mack, Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy F. Mack, a former owner of the Philadelphia Athletics and the oldest of the late Connie Mack's three sons, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

The 71-year-old baseball executive and his brother, Earle, along with their famed father and other stockholders of the Philadelphia team, sold out to Arnold Johnson of Chicago in November, 1954. Johnson moved the team to Kansas City.

Archie Gets Big Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—Humbert Fugazy, director of boxing for Feature Sports, Inc., said Wednesday he has offered light heavyweight champion Archie Moore $200,000 to defend the crown against Germany's undefeated Erich Schoeppner this summer. Schoeppner, European 175-pound champion, was offered $50,000.

The promoter said the site and dates would be set later.

Three Sites Considered

Harness Track Land Option May Be Signed Today

AN OPTION for a 1000-square acre plot in Monroe County, the proposed site of a harness racing track, is expected to be signed by officials of Racing Incorporated today.

Martin Memolo, a director of the group, said Thursday that three areas are under consideration by his group. All are North of Stroudsburg.

Once the land is purchased, three barriers remain before a track, where legalized betting is allowed, can be built.

Petitions Required

Petitions, asking that the question of such a track be placed on the April 26 primary ballot, must be filed with the newly-formed State Harness Racing Commission in Harrisburg.

Once the question is on the ballot, it must be approved by a simple majority of voters.

If these two hurdles are crossed, Monroe may still not get a track.

Only four locations will be allotted tracks and observers feel that at least 12 counties will be in the running for the strips.

Memolo said his group is prepared to spend a minimum of three million dollars to build and operate a track here.

Memolo also said at a meeting of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau, that the option to buy the land will be handled by David Montgomery, an officer in Racing Inc., who is vacationing in Florida.

The PMVA began circulating the racing petitions today. The petitions must be in Harrisburg by Feb. 23.

W. Virginia Upset By St. John's

NEW YORK (AP)—St. John's of New York broke out of a 58-58 deadlock with 10 straight points midway in the last half to upset fifth-ranked West Virginia 79-73 Thursday night.

The New Yorkers' seventh straight victory gave them a 13-5 overall mark.

West Virginia's All-America, Jerry West, scored 32 points, but his individual efforts were not enough to offset the all-around play of the Redmen. St. John's attack was led by Tony Jackson with 20 points. Three others also were in double figures.

The score was tied eight times and the lead changed hands 13 times before the half ended with the count 42-42.

Lead By Six

The biggest margin held by either team was St. John's 34-28 lead late in the first half.

With West Virginia leading 58-55, the New Yorkers tied the score on Ivan Kovac's three-pointer and then rolled up 10 successive points in about five minutes before West broke the West Virginia scoring drought with two free throws. That made the score 68-60 with only 3:51 remaining.

From there on, Jim Richie made an individual effort to get West Virginia back into the game, but for each of his points there was a reply from either Jackson or Willie Hall.

Williams Loses Caddie

Jurges Puts Finger On Gene Stephens As Sox' Full-Timer In Center Field

By Frank Eck
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

WHETHER Ted Williams takes his glove to left field or only pinch hits for the Boston Red Sox no longer concerns Gene Stephens.

Stephens is finished as a caddie for Williams.

The loose and gangling 27-year-old Glen Eugene Stephens had come to be known as Williams' stand in. Ted would start a game, when he had no pain in the neck, but in the late innings the 6-foot-3 Stephens, being a better fielder, would finish the game. It has been that way for the last five years.

On His Own

This year, says Boston Manager Bill Jurges, Stephens will be on his own.

"He's my center fielder," says the pilot who helped open the cellar doors and guide the Bosox to fifth place, one game behind Detroit, after taking over for Mike Higgins last July 4.

"Gene really came strong for us the last five weeks," says Jurges. "He is fast and has a good arm. Casey Stengel is nuts about him."

Stephens cost the Yankees a few ball games with his hitting even though his career mark had been a meager .240. Against the Stengelman he made 15 hits in 44 trips for a .341.

Last May 2 Stephens fractured his right or throwing arm just above the wrist in Chicago while making a catch. He was hitting only .220 at the time yet had been a big factor in several games. He missed six weeks of the season but finished with .278, his second best average since he first came up with Boston as a 19-year-old left-handed hitting phenom.

Gene Stephens

Williams Out

In Stephens' last 25 games with the Red Sox he batted .333 with 32 hits in 96 efforts. Williams was out of left field more than in it and over the winter Jurges has decided that Stephens will be his regular center fielder until he proves otherwise.

The Red Sox — and even Williams — have been high on Steve ever since 1951 when he hit .337 with 112 runs batted in and 22 home runs for High Point-Thomasville in the old North Carolina State D League.

In 1952, when the Red Sox trained in Sarasota, Fla., this writer recalls Ted Williams saying "I like this kid at the plate. He has a nice swing."

Ted's Picture

Williams couldn't help but notice Stephens' swing for he looked like Williams all the way. The kid had desire to hit, had the actions of a Williams and even swung like the great man.

But Stephens couldn't make it at 19. He even failed at Albany, N. Y., in Class A, hitting .177 in 35 games in 1952. The Sox tried him again in '53 but he was shipped to Louisville a second time. In 1953 Stephens hit .286 for Louisville and has been with Boston ever since.

In 1951 when Stephens left Gravette, Ark., and reported to the Red Sox farm team camp at Ocala, Fla., he arrived as a first baseman. The Boston brain trust immediately turned him into an outfielder and now, at 27, he could become a good one.

Jurges Impressed

One thing is certain about the 185-pound resident of Oklahoma City. He no longer will be a stand in for Ted Williams. Although he doesn't have too much power in his swing, Stephens batted fourth for the Bosox last September and the way he produced in that spot has impressed Jurges, Stengel and a few others who recognize potential.

Roberston Continues Pace In Record-Breaking Play, But Team Fails In Stretch

OSCAR (BIG O) ROBERTSON continues to blaze away at a record scoring pace but he hasn't been able to hoist his Cincinnati teammates into the team scoring lead in college basketball.

Ohio State dominates the show on a unit basis with indications the well-balanced Buckeyes will give the Big Ten its first NCAA team scoring championship.

Although Midwestern basketball has produced the highest general scoring for the past three years and rates 1-2 over the past decade, no Big Ten team ever took the national scoring crown. Purdue was runnerup in 1932.

The latest collegiate figures, compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, show the Ohio States averaging 93.2 points a game through games of Feb. 6. This is 3.2 points better than the efforts of the second place Cincinnati team.

In the individual race, Robertson, who already has set a three-year career record for major colleges, is averaging 36.8 points a game. This puts him well out in front of his rivals although he failed to gain on his closest pursuer, Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure. The latter is averaging 31.5.

Ohio State has the top individual marksman in Jerry Lucas, who has scored on 64 per cent of his field goal attempts. Robertson's teammate, Larry Willey, is hitting .638 for second place in accuracy.

Jack Walters of Mississippi has the best free throw score, .893. Leroy Wright of College of the Pacific tops rebounders with .219.

California continues to lead the defensive team ratings by limiting its opponents to 48.1 points a game.

Cincinnati replaced Auburn as the field goal percentage leader, with a .504 shooting average compared with Auburn's .501. Auburn has the best free throw score, 78 per cent, and Ohio State leads in rebounds with a .591 average.

QUESTIONS

1—Who is Paul Pender?
2—With what major league team was Tito Francona a standout last season?
3—Who is Camille Henry?

HOOHEE? THE zany antics of this White Sox first baseman earned him the title of "the Great." He had two fights with his manager, Lena Blackburne. By 1932, a bad knee had forced him out of the majors.

ANSWERS

1—He's the two-state world's champion who took Sugar Ray Robinson's title away from him.
2—Baseball writers picked as the Indians' "Man of the Year."

Unbeaten State Cage Records Finally Broken Last Weekend

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two unbeaten basketball strings came to a halt at opposite ends of the state this week.

Bristol, whose Pete Cimino made news several days ago with 114 points, lost to Pennsbury, 54-53, in a Lower Bucks game, after 14 victories.

And Karns City, after 17 victories, lost to Miniteau, 57-53, in a Butler County League game.

Around the state, the races are shaping up this way:

Dist. 1—Coatesville, West Chester, Haverford, Ridley Twp., Radnor and Springfield Twp. are the leading Class A contenders. Bristol and Sharon Hill appear to be the best of the Class B. schools. Jenkintown is way ahead of the pack in class C.

Dist. 2—Nanticoke is favored to take the Class A crown. Carbondale, Swoyersville and northwest are the leading contenders at the moment. Fell Twp. or West Pittston should win the Class B title. West Wyoming, Harter, Hughestown, McAdoo, Olyphant and Scott are Class C leaders.

Dist. 3—Lancaster in a late surge, has pushed its way into the Class A picture along with York, Chambersburg, Hanover, Cumberland Valley, Hershey, Middletown, Shippensburg, Red Lion, Spring Grove, Warwick.

Kutztown, defending state champ, and Columbia appear best of the Class B teams.

Defending state C champ, West Reading, is favored to repeat as Dist. C titlist.

Dist. 4—There appears no competition for Shamokin in Class A. Montoursville also looks like a good bet to repeat in Class B. Class C honors may depend upon the Columbia County league race involving Rock Glen and Nescopeck.

Dist. 11—There are a spate of Class A contenders with Mahanoy Area, Hazleton, Bethlehem, Catasauqua and Wilson Boro the best. Coaldale, Pine Grove, Schuylkill Haven and Fountain Hill are Class B contenders. Class C. has little to offer.

Dist. 12—Montrose is making a strong bid to repeat as Class B champion. Waymart and Pleasant Mount are challenging for Moscow's Class C title.

Dist. 5—Somerset is having the best season of the three Class A teams. Meyersdale and Saxton-Libery are leading Class B. contenders. Hyndman, which beat Somerset Tuesday night, is the only Class C contender.

Dist. 6—Altoona is favored to win a fifth straight Class A title. Winderb, Lewistown, State College, Lock Haven, Franklin-Conemaugh, Northern Cambria and Johnstown are long shots.

Gallitzin appears ready for another Class B title with Patton, Morris Cove, Kishacoquillas and Becarria leading contenders. Class C is anybody's guess.

Dist. 7 — Defending champion Farrell and Kittanning, Uniontown, Fort Cherry, Donora, Bethel and Springdale are about the best in Class A. Union Twp. is a strong Class B choice with Avonworth, Bridgeville, Bentleyville, Erna, Wampum and Shannock Valley contenders.

Dist. 8 — Fifth Avenue, South Hills and Oliver are vying for the Pittsburgh city and district Class A title.

Dist. 9—DuBois is the Class A favorite. St. Marys and Karns City lead the Class B hopefuls. Oswayo Valley, Sykesville and Sheffield are in the Class C race.

Dist. 10—Sharpsville became a leading Class A choice by beating Meadville Tuesday night. Erie Tech and Franklin also are in contention Linesville, Lawrence Park, North East, Girard, Youngsville, West Middlesex and Cochranton are Class B leaders. Wesleyville is a good Class C contender.

Top High Jumper, Vaulter To Highlight Philly Games

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Record breaking efforts by high jumper John Thomas and pole vaulter Don Bragg highlight the 16th annual Philadelphia Inquirer games here Friday night.

Another feature of the indoor track and field frolicking is the mile run starring Laszlo Tabori, Hungary's sub four-minute miler. Bragg and Paul Winder of Morgan State, a sprinter, are the only defending champions back for another try.

Thomas, 6-foot, 5¼ inch-sophomore from Boston University, will seek to break his indoor record of 7 feet, 1½ inches in competition against Sweden's Stig Peterson, Floyd Smith of the Chicago Track Club, Herman Wyatt from Santa Clara, and the New York Pioneer's Mike Herman.

Lined up against Tabori in the mile will be Lew Stieglitz, former Connecticut star who ran for Uncle Sam in the Russian-U.S. meet here last summer; Oregon's George Larson, a 4:07.8 miler indoors this year; Bobby Seaman, ex-UCLA runner, and Pete Weisiger of Duke.

Other standouts include Ed Moran, former Penn State miler in the 1,000 yard run.

Stroud Meets Whitehall At Catty

All Area Teams But Bangor On Road Today As Schoolboy Basketball Enters Stretch

ALL AREA high school basketball teams except Bangor are on the road tonight and all need wins badly.

Stroud Union, a 38-point loser to Catasauqua Tuesday, returns to the Catty Court again but this time to play Whitehall.

East Stroudsburg, on the bottom of the Lehigh-Northampton loop, is at Coplay and Bangor hosts Pen Argyl.

Southern Wayne travels to Waymart in the Wayne County League.

Stroud Union lost to Whitehall, 76-67, in the first half, after playing the Zephyrs on even terms for all but two minutes of the game.

Lehigh Valley League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Catasauqua	3	0	1.000
Whitehall	3	0	1.000
Palmerton	2	1	.667
Stroudsburg	2	1	.667
Northampton	1	2	.333
Slatington	1	2	.333
Emmaus	0	3	.000
Lehighton	0	3	.000

Whitehall, loser only to Catasauqua in league play is in a two-way tie for first place with the Rough Riders.

The Mountaineers will drop below the .500 mark if they lose tonight's game. They are 8-8 overall and 5-5 in league play.

Chances Narrow

East Stroudsburg gets its next to last and best chance to vacate the Lehigh-Northampton basement.

The Cavaliers, who have beaten only Hellertown in the second half face Coplay, also winner of only one second go-round game. Coplay is a notch above Eastburg in the standings with a 1-4 worksheet. The Cavaliers end their league schedule next week against Fountain Hill.

Bangor is tied with Coplay and has an inside chance of upsetting Pen Argyl, 2-3 in the league. But Art Hutchison must be checked.

Lehigh-Northampton League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Nazareth	5	0	1.000
Wilson Boro	5	0	1.000
Parkland	3	2	.600
Fountain Hill	2	2	.500
Helertown	2	2	.500
Pen Argyl	2	3	.400
Bangor	1	4	.200
Coplay	1	4	.200
East Stroudsburg	1	5	.167

Hutchison set a new Pen Argyl single-season scoring record in his last game. Hutchison has totaled 335 points to erase the old mark of 324 set by Bill Ruggiero in 1957-58.

Stags Hurting

Southern Wayne is also in bad shape. The Stags have lost all but one loop game after a fine exhibition series and have been beaten by Waymart earlier in the campaign.

The Little Stags go for their 16th victory of the year against a lone defeat in the opener.

Puts Blame On Truman Reign

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y. (AP) —Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa) blamed the Truman administration Thursday night for a lag behind the Soviets in missile development but said this had been overcome by the Eisenhower administration.

Van Zandt said the United States and its allies now were stronger militarily than any potential aggressor. He accused Democratic presidential aspirants of making a political football of national defense.

The Pennsylvanian, chief speaker at a Lincoln Day dinner of the Putnam County Republican Committee, said in a prepared address:

"In the short space of seven years we have overcome the tremendous lag in missiles development inherited from the Truman administration. In addition, we have in operation and combat-ready a wide variety of missiles and rockets."

Van Zandt said the Truman administration in 1947 cancelled the only United States intercontinental ballistics missiles contract then in existence.

The congressman said, in the view of experts, that action cost the United States at least six priceless years of missile research and development.

Recent Car Buyers Must Verify Tax

HARRISBURG (AP) — Several hundred recent Pennsylvania car buyers will soon receive letters asking them to verify their sales tax payment, the Revenue Department disclosed Thursday.

They will be asked how much they paid for their car, including accessories and parts; how much they were allowed for trade-ins, if any, and how much tax they paid.

Persons who claimed exemption from the tax may be asked to give more detail about the basis for the exemption.

The department said it wants to test the accuracy and adequacy of the new collection procedure which went into effect last Dec. 21. Under the new plan, the car purchaser instead of the dealer is responsible for forwarding the tax due the state.

Unofficially, the department wants to learn whether the new system has stopped tax evasion on automobile purchases.

The department said it has evidence to show that a small number of dealers, under the old plan, were pocketing tax money.

Department spokesmen believe there is considerable misunderstanding among both public and car dealers about what is taxable. The survey may in some cases show the taxpayer overpaid and is entitled to a refund, they commented.

Disabled Jet Lands Safely

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A jet fighter plane piloted by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), blew a tire on landing at Geiger Air Force Base, just west of here, yesterday afternoon. Goldwater escaped injury.

The senator, handling the controls of the F104 Starfighter under the directions of Capt. Reese A. Schaff Jr., was able to keep the plane on a fairly steady course, despite the blowout at more than 100 miles an hour.

The pilots released a drag chute and brought the craft safely to a stop.

Goldwater, who has some 300 hours in jet aircraft, said it was his third landing blowout.

Goldwater holds a brigadier general's commission in the Air Force Reserve.

William Lilye, an Oxford scholar of the 19th Century, first said "A penny for your thoughts."

Steel Output Sets New Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Steel production exceeded 12 million tons a month for the first time in January, the American Iron and Steel Institute said Thursday.

Furnaces poured 12,043,000 net tons of ingots and steel for castings compared with the previous record of 11,989,319 net tons in December 1959. Output in January 1959 came to 9,317,385 net tons.

Based on the an. 1, 1960 capacity rating of 148,570,970 net tons of raw steel annually, January production averaged 95.4 per cent of capacity.

In Memoriam 4

BAKER—In loving memory of our husband and father, Herbert H. Baker, who passed away February 12, 1958.
The world sees but our smiling faces,
Thus maybe thinks you've been forgot;
But you can look deep in our hearts,
And see the scars that prove you're not!

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Section 8 of the Act of June 25, P. L. 1145, as amended, that the Council of the Borough of East Stroudsburg, Pa., intends to adopt an Ordinance levying a $5.00 per capita tax for Borough purposes at a meeting to be held on the first day of March, 1960.

The imposition of the said tax is necessitated by reason of the increased operating and capital expenditures costs of the Borough.

It is estimated that $12,000.00 will be derived from said tax.

By Order of the Council of the Borough of East Stroudsburg.

STERLING CRAMER

Electric Forum Set

COMMENCING next Tuesday over 150 area electric contractors, industrial operational foremen and production technicians from selected commercial organizations will convene for a series of three demonstrational lectures designed to improve operational efficiency and economy of heavy electric equipment.

All three sessions comprising the "Electric Control Forum", scheduled on successive Tuesdays, will be held at 8 p.m. at the Western Division headquarters of New Jersey Power and Light Co., Phillipsburg, N. J.

Invitations have been issued to technical representatives from leading industrial and commercial firms in the Easton, Stroudsburg, Bangor and Nazareth areas of Pennsylvania, and from four counties in New Jersey.

Co-chairmen are William R. Kollmayr of the NJP&L Phillipsburg office and E. Richard Ziegenfuss of the Metropolitan Edison Easton office.

Anyone not invited, but who is technically interested in the forum, may request free admission cards from either Kollmayr or Ziegenfuss.

Four Divorce Decrees Signed

FOUR divorce decrees, signed by Judge Fred W. Davis, were filed yesterday in the office of N. Henry Fenner, prothonotary.

They were granted to Jeannette R. Turner, Henryville, RD 1, from Archier Turner, New York City, on grounds of desertion; Victor Capone, Stroudsburg, from Elsie V. Capone, Washington, N. J., indignities to the person; Esther E. Smith, Saylorsburg, from Isaac Smith, Saylorsburg, indignities, and Peter K. Everett, Stroudsburg, RD 5, from Catherine E. Everett, Stroudsburg, indignities.

Robert Boyle, an early authority on vacuum (an empty space), invented the first successful air pump about 1660.
